Position Available: Graduate Teaching Assistant
Course: Biochemistry 3600
Number of positions: 1
Hours: 40 hours
Duties: The successful applicant will carry out the following duties: attend meetings with supervisor, conduct tutorials, give small number of lectures, number to be arranged with supervisor, mark midterms and/or finals and/or other assignments, assist with exam invigilation, answer questions on course material and/or assignments. Graduate Teaching Assistants will report directly to the Course Instructor.
Duration: Lectures start September 6, 2017, and are scheduled to end December 1, 2017. The exact end date will depend on the final examination schedule assigned. It would be expected that even with unplanned delays, duties would be finished no later than December 20, 2017.
Qualifications required: Enrolment in a masters or doctoral program in the area of biochemistry. Preference will be given to those candidates with a thorough knowledge of human nutrition.
Application deadline: 5:00 pm, August 11, 2017
Competition number: BC-3600-TA-01
Apply to: Head, Department of Biochemistry
Please submit a letter outlining your ability to meet the required qualifications. Please include the competition number. E-mail your letter to biochem@mun.ca

This position is covered by a collective agreement between TAUMUN and Memorial University of Newfoundland.