

This edition of Arts Matters contains information about grants and nomination deadlines for faculty. We also discuss the new format of the newsletter.

Faculty Edition

New format for the Research E-Newsletter

We're using a new system to deliver news about faculty research successes, deadlines, etc., in a timely and attractive way.

Last call for spring issue of Books@MUN

Are you a faculty member who has recently published or edited a book? Want to have it featured in the next edition of Books@MUN? Please email Janet Harron (jharron@mun.ca) by Friday April 26 with the details. Check out the first edition ...

SSHRC CRSH SSHRC merit review - sign up on-line!

SSHRC has added information on its website on its Merit Review process along with a mechanism for those interested in getting involved to volunteer to serve on a committee or to recommend a candidate. I invite you to visit the webpages, to share this information within your institution, and to consider nominating candidates for SSHRC's upcoming 2013-2014 competitions.

Upcoming Dates

See our deadlines page for further details:

NSERC Common CV Template Now Available

In preparation for the launch of the Research Portal in early May 2013, NSERC is gradually phasing in the new Canadian Common CV (CCV) to replace the Personal Data Form (Form 100), starting with:

- The Notification of Intent for Discovery Grants (Individual and Team);
- The full application for Discovery Grants; and
- All the program elements for the Subatomic Physics Grants suite.

For more information, see the NSERC guide; also refer to the CCV guide, prepared by Dr. Kelley Bromley-Brits.
