ARTS MATTERS

E-NEWS

Faculty Edition

New format for the Research E-Newsletter

We're using a new system to deliver news about faculty research successes, deadlines, etc., in a timely and attractive way.

Social Media Launch of "MUNArtsGrants"

We are pleased to announce our new Facebook and Twitter feeds for "MUNArtsGrants," which will be updated regularly by Arts Grants Facilitator Kelley Bromley-Brits. In addition to announcements on upcoming funding opportunities and workshops, the feeds will feature updates on the Common CV, the latest funding news, and links to new grant writing resources we have developed, such as grant template

Cancellation of the NLCAHR annual awards competition to Faculty and Students

NLCAHR is sorry to announce that a significant budget reduction obliges us to cancel this year's annual awards competition. An announcement about future competitions will be made in the fall. We deeply regret the inconvenience that this change will pose to prospective applicants. Please note that the graduate students who received multi-year fellowships in last year's competition will continue to be funded. We will also continue to administer two external funding competitions—the NL Healthy Aging Research Program and the Enhancing Health Care in NL program.
