This August 2013 edition of Arts Matters - Graduate Edition has information about upcoming deadlines, grad funding and teaching assistantships, and a list of grad courses offered in Fall 2013.

First Year Success Program - call for teaching assistants

The First Year Success Program seeks two graduate student Teaching Assistants for its second semester core course, Univ 2020 during the Fall (2013) and Winter (2014) Semesters. First Year Success is a pan-university program originating with Memorial's Teaching/Learning Framework and housed in the Faculty of Arts; for details, see <http://www.mun.ca/success/>. In Winter Univ 2020 will be taught in a lead session/small group workshop format. Guest lecturers drawn from instructors across the university will provide the lead-sessions while the graduate Teaching Assistants will join the course coordinators in leading the small groups. TAs will be assigned one group each for a weekly meeting. Pre-prepared material will be used in these sessions. In Fall the TAs will form part of the team planning each of the workshops and gathering instruction material. In this preparatory semester the workload will be weighted at a half-TA (28 hours). In Winter, when the TA will be a small-group instructor with some grading duties, the hours will be weighted at one-and-a-half (84 hours). FYS seeks individuals with a strong commitment to the philosophy and practice of inclusive, multi-aptitude and engaged learning. Applicants must be available to FYS for the two semesters of the TAship. Successful applicants will also participate in the occasional First Year Success Program Pedagogy Workshops. Ideally we are seeking applicants enrolled in PhD programs, but Masters students should not be discouraged from applying. To be considered for an FYS Teaching Assistantship please submit a letter of application and a c.v. to the FYS Academic Director by email (vburton@mun.ca) no later than 8 September 2013. Include in your letter of application a statement of your
