Memorial University is Newfoundland and Labrador’s only university, and plays an integral role in the educational and cultural life of the province. Offering diverse undergraduate and graduate programs to over 18,000 students, Memorial provides a distinctive and stimulating environment for learning. St. John’s is a safe, friendly city with great historic charm, a vibrant cultural life, and easy access to a wide range of outdoor activities. For further information about Memorial, please visit www.mun.ca.

NOTE: All applications should quote the position number as listed.

Tenure Track:

The tenure-track position listed below will normally commence January 1, 2017, subject to budgetary approval, and will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor. A completed earned doctorate (or recognized terminal qualification in the discipline) is required for the appointee to receive the rank of Assistant Professor and to be in a tenure-track position. (If a successful candidate has not completed an earned doctorate, he/she shall be appointed to a regular term, non-renewable three-year appointment. If the candidate completes all the requirements for the doctorate during the first 24 months of the term appointment, he/she shall begin a tenure-track appointment following completion of the requirements of the degree.) Applications should reach the Head of search committee no later than November 4, 2016.

DEPARTMENT OF GENDER STUDIES
POSITION#: VPA-GNDR-2016-001

The Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science and the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences invite applications for a tenure-track faculty position. While the primary unit of the successful candidate will be the Department of Gender Studies in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, the position is also part of engineering growth effects on other units in the Engineering Expansion Strategic Initiative. The successful applicant will be expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to research, curriculum innovation, teaching of undergraduate and graduate level courses in both Faculties, and leading cross-disciplinary engagement initiatives. Areas of research interest may include, but are not limited to, philosophy of technology and/or science; history of science and technology; technology, ethics and human values; humanist and post-humanist studies; gender and technical communities; gender and science/technology studies; science and technology studies. Applicants should hold a PhD degree, with the proven ability for excellence in both teaching and research with an active research program. Candidates should forward an electronic application, which should include (a) curriculum vitae (b) a statement of teaching philosophy and research interests, (c) the names and complete contact information of three referees, and (d) copies of at least three relevant publications. Application should be forwarded to: Dr. Jennifer Dyer, Head of Search Committee, Department of Gender Studies, Memorial University of Newfoundland, St. John’s, NL, A1C 5S7, Canada. Phone: (709) 864-3322; fax (709) 864-2067; email: joand@mun.ca.

Memorial University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from qualified women and men, visible minorities, aboriginal people and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply, however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.