Applications are invited from qualified individuals who are interested in being considered for a position as a per course instructor teaching Psychology 2150 Introduction to Forensic Psychology in Fall semester 2015 on the St.

John’s campus. The course is scheduled for Slot 32 W 19.00-21.30, although this may change. The Calendar description is:

2150 Introduction to Forensic Psychology will provide an in-depth overview of the relationship between psychology and the law.

Required qualifications: A demonstrated knowledge of psychology and knowledge of the specific topics noted in the course description, and a M.Sc. in psychology are required. Applicants should have conducted research in this area.
Preference will be given first to applicants who have previously taught Psychology 2150 on the St. John’s campus, and secondarily to applicants who have previous experience teaching Psychology 2150 elsewhere.

Applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching, and the names of three references in electronic form to: psychsecretary@mun.ca

If that is not possible, applicants may send the information to:

Head, Department of Psychology
Memorial University of Newfoundland
St. John’s, NL
A1B 3X9

The deadline for receipt of complete applications is 7 May, 2015.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. Memorial University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from qualified women and men, visible minorities, aboriginal people and persons with disabilities.