1 Note
The contents of this calendar set forth the intentions of the University at the time of publication, with respect to the matters contained therein. THE UNIVERSITY EXPRESSLY RESERVES THE RIGHT TO DEViate FROM WHAT APPEARS IN THE CALENDAR, including both the content and scheduling therein, in whole or in part, and including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the right to revise the content of, and to cancel, defer, reschedule or suspend, in whole or in part, the scheduling of particular periods of instruction, courses, or programs, and the academic program of the University, and to alter, accelerate or defer fees and charges, and to do any or all of the above either in order to serve what the University considers to be the best interests of the academic or student community or of the University itself, or because of any circumstance or occurrence, whether occurring by or through the willful act or negligence of the University, its agents, servants and employees, or otherwise and whether or not beyond the reasonable or other control of the University, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, as a result of circumstances or occurrences including financial resources, natural catastrophe or disaster, the health, safety and well-being of the employees or students of the University, labour disagreements or disputes, slow-downs, work-stoppages, and strikes. THE UNIVERSITY DOES NOT ACCEPT, AND HEREBY EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMS, ANY OR ALL RESPONSIBILITY OR LIABILITY to any person, persons or group, for any loss, injury, damages or adverse effect, either direct or indirect, consequential or otherwise, arising out of any one or more of such deviations. The University hereby disclaims liability to any person who may suffer loss as a result of reliance upon any information contained in this calendar.
Each and every of the subsequent provisions contained in this Calendar, and the relationship, both legal and otherwise, between the University, and its students, is expressly subject to and governed by the above provisions.
The Office of the Registrar will assist students with any questions or problems which might arise concerning the interpretation of academic regulations. It is, however, the responsibility of students to see that their academic programs meet the University’s regulations in all respects.

2 The Memorial University of Newfoundland Code
All members of the Memorial University of Newfoundland Community, which includes students, faculty, and staff, shall treat others with respect and fairness, be responsible and honest, and uphold the highest standards of academic integrity.

3 Glossary of Terms Used in This Calendar
In this calendar “Grenfell College” refers to Sir Wilfred Grenfell College and “Marine Institute” refers to the Fisheries and Marine Institute of Memorial University of Newfoundland. “University”, when capitalized, refers to Memorial University of Newfoundland.
Academic standing:
is an enrolment status normally determined each semester by a regular evaluation procedure used to assess whether or not students are meeting the standards prescribed for continuing in the University and/or their programs.
Academic unit:
refers to a centre, department, division, faculty, program or school, other than an administrative unit, as the context requires.
Academic year:
runs from September 1 to August 31.
Accelerated course: is a course that is offered in a shorter time frame than a semester or session.
Administrative unit:
refers to an office, division or centre, other than an academic unit, as listed in the Offices of the University section of the Calendar.
Appeal: is the challenge of, or the request for review of, a judgment regarding the application of regulations.
Assignment:
is an evaluative exercise including but not limited to assigned work, term papers and projects.
Certificate:
is an academic designation awarded for the completion of a specified program of study which is of shorter duration than a degree or diploma.
Challenge for credit:
is the request for consideration of academic credit resulting from experience or knowledge gained elsewhere for which transfer credit cannot be awarded.
Co-requisite course: is a course which may be taken concurrently with or successfully completed prior to the course for which it is required.
Course: is a unit of work in a particular subject normally extending through one semester or session, the completion of which normally carries credit toward the fulfillment of the requirements of certain degrees, diplomas or certificates.
Course number:
courses are designated by four characters. The first character signifies the level of the course. Where all four characters are numeric, the last three are used by academic units to indicate various information such as course sequence and area of study. Where the last character is alphabetic, the letter:
A or B identifies a linked course. No credits or points are given until the “B” part is completed.
C identifies an English course that does not carry credit towards a degree, diploma or certificate.
F identifies a foundation course that is intended to remedy a specific academic weakness and does not carry credit towards a degree, diploma or certificate.
W identifies a course in either a work term in a co-operative program or a special project in certain of the professional schools and faculties and may or may not be assigned credit hours.
X identifies a course which represents an entire semester’s work and carries 15 credit hours.
Courses offered outside of the normal time frame:
are those with different start and/or end dates than those of the semester or session.
Credit hour: is the measure used to reflect the relative weight of a given course toward the fulfilment of appropriate degree, diploma, certificate, major, minor, or other program requirements. A weight of 1 credit hour normally means that the course meets for lectures one hour per week for the duration of a semester or two hours per week for the duration of a session. Unless otherwise indicated, a course normally has a credit value of 3 credit hours.

Credit-restricted courses: are courses which are closely related but not equivalent. Credit is limited to one of the credit-restricted courses. Normally, credit-restricted courses cannot be substituted, one for the other, to satisfy program requirements.

Cross-listed courses: are courses which are listed under two or more academic units and which can be taken for credit from one unit only. Cross-listed courses can be substituted, one for the other, to satisfy program requirements.

Degree: is an academic designation awarded for the completion of a specified program of study which is of longer duration than a diploma or certificate.

Diploma: is an academic designation awarded for the completion of a specified program of study which is of shorter duration than a degree and longer duration than a certificate.

Distance education course: is a university course designed for people who wish to study outside a traditional university setting. Instructors and students are separated by time and/or space. Distance education courses include correspondence, teleconference and world wide web courses.

Equivalent courses: are those which are determined to be equal for credit determination, although the subject area or course number will differ. These are normally identified with the phrase “Same as”.

Examination: is an evaluative exercise including but not limited to tests, quizzes or mid-terms, final or supplementary examinations.

Foundation course: is a course intended to remedy a specific academic weakness and is identified by the letter “F” as the last character of the course number. A foundation course does not carry credit towards a degree, diploma or certificate.

GPA: is the abbreviation for grade point average.

Head of academic unit: includes but is not limited to co-ordinator, dean, department head, director, principal, or equivalent.

Inactive courses: are courses which have not been offered in the previous three academic years and which are not scheduled to be offered in the current academic year.

Lecturing period: is a designated period of lectures within a semester or session as defined by the University Diary.

Linked course: is a course comprising two components and is normally identified by the letter “A” or “B” as the last character of the course number. No credits or points are given until the “B” part is completed.

Major: is a subject or field of study which a student normally specializes in during the course of degree studies.

Minor: is a subject or field of study which a student normally pursues secondary to a major during the course of degree studies.

Prerequisite course: is a course which must be successfully completed prior to commencing the course for which it is required.

Program: is a series of courses, the successful completion of which, if all requirements are met, qualifies the candidate for a degree, diploma or certificate.

Registration: is the process of selecting, enrolling in, and being assessed fees for courses.

Registration period: is, in any semester, the period extending from the first day of registration to two weeks following the first day of lectures, as stated in the University Diary. In any session, it is the period extending from the first day of registration to one week following the first day of lectures, as stated in the University Diary.

Repeatable course: is a course that may be taken for credit in several semesters to a maximum number of credit hours. All such courses shall have specified both the number of credit hours assigned per semester and the maximum number of credit hours to be awarded.

Semester: is a period of approximately fourteen consecutive weeks during which there are at least twelve weeks of lecture. Normally the Fall semester commences in early September, the Winter semester in early January, and the Spring semester in early May.

Session: is a period of approximately seven consecutive weeks in the Spring semester during which there are at least six weeks of lecture. The first half of Spring semester is designated as Intersession; the second half of Spring semester is designated as Summer session.

Student-Web/Student Self-Service: is a suite of e-business student services including registration and the provision of personalized student information.

Transcript: is the complete and unabridged report of a student’s academic record.

Transfer credit: is academic credit granted for work completed at an institution other than Memorial University of Newfoundland.
Waiver: is the permission granted by the appropriate authority for exemption from a particular program requirement and/or a particular university regulation.

Computing and Communications also provides application management services through our partnership with Edutech Services Inc. and high performance computing and research services through our partnership with ACEnet.

6.3   Co-operative Education, Division of

www.mun.ca/coop/home

Director
Rans, P., B.A.(Hons.) East Anglia, M.A. Sheffield, Ph.D., M.P.A. Dalhousie
The Division of Co-operative Education is responsible for combining classroom education with practical work experience. The Division links the paid work terms the students experience with their chosen program of studies. A number of Memorial University of Newfoundland’s co-op programs are accredited by the Canadian Association for Co-operative Education, the national body and accrediting agency for co-operative education in Canada. The accredited institution affirms that: (I) each work situation is developed and/or approved by the co-operative educational institution as a suitable learning situation; (ii) the co-operative student is engaged in productive full time work rather than merely observing; (iii) the co-operative student receives remuneration for the work performed; (iv) the co-operative student's progress on the job is monitored by the co-operative educational institution; (v) the co-operative student's performance on the job is supervised and evaluated by the student's co-operative employer; and (vi) the total co-operative work experience is at least thirty percent of the time spent in academic study. Co-operative education programs at this University are offered in a variety of degree programs organized through a centralized division. The goal of the Division of Co-operative Education is to fuse academic knowledge with practical experience, creating highly qualified and knowledgeable professionals prepared to meet the demands of today’s workforce.

The Department of Human Resources is more than payroll, pensions and benefits. The Department of Human Resources provides the foundation to advance and maintain a strong institutional culture that values the contributions of all within the organization. This culture is based on clear values that are accepted and put into practice by all: the principles of respect, recognition, support, equity and fairness, effective leadership, recruitment and retention, learning and development, work-life balance (including health and wellness) and career opportunity. Human Resources works to provide optimal service delivery to clients and ensure best practices in internal processes through measurement. Through a long-term strategy in Human Resources, Memorial University of Newfoundland continues to implement the people development strategy (mentoring, succession, coaching, leadership and career development), transfer knowledge to new employees, meet employment equity targets, improve employee satisfaction, and enhance connections prior to and into retirement. Complete details and contact information is available at www.mun.ca/humanres/ about.

www.mun.ca/iapp/home/

Co-ordinator
Smith, R.

ATIPP Analyst
Corcoran, M.

ATIPP Analyst
El-Gohary, S.

The Information Access and Privacy Protection Office (IAPP) was created in November 2005 to assist the University in complying with the provincial Access to Information and Protection of Privacy Act (ATIPP) and other applicable privacy legislation, as well as developing best practices in information access and privacy protection matters.

The IAPP Office benefits from the guidance of the IAPP Advisory Committee and works with the university wide Privacy Working Group. The IAPP Advisory Committee provides strategic direction and general guidance to the IAPP Office. The Privacy Working Group implements policy and procedures throughout the University. It includes senior administrative staff from the 46 principal units of the University. Using guidelines, policy, procedures and standards established by the IAPP Advisory Committee, members lead a team in their own units to implement best practices in privacy protection and bring personal information handling practices into compliance with the ATIPP Act and other pertinent privacy protection legislation.

The Office of the Registrar provides academic support services and systems to prospective and current students - from initial contact, to application, academic advising, registration, and graduation - and strives to implement continuous improvements to these services and systems. Together with offices at Sir Wilfred Grenfell College and the Marine Institute, the Office of the Registrar serves the University community, including those involved in distance learning.

The Office of the Registrar’s current mission and vision is to: Encourage and facilitate the transition from potential applicant to registered student to graduate. Develop and implement strategies designed to enhance student success. Serve as a catalyst in formulating and implementing academic regulations, policies and procedures; provide accurate and timely information and advice about these to the academic community and the general public. Provide innovative and technologically advanced information systems to facilitate the most effective and efficient delivery of services. Respond to change and commit to improving the quality of our services within the context of the themes outlined in the University’s Strategic Framework. In carrying out this mission, the Office strives to be sensitive to the needs of students, faculty, staff, co-workers, and the general public and to treat each individual with fairness, respect and understanding. Responsibility for the Secretariat for Senate and for several major Senate and Faculty Committees also rests with this Office.

Vice-President (Research) Pro Tempore

The Office of the Vice-President (Research) is responsible for promoting and enhancing the university's broad range of research activities. Specific priorities for the Vice-President (Research) include: Providing leadership in the development and execution of the University's Strategic Research Plan; Supporting researchers across all academic disciplines; Encouraging the full range of research at Memorial University of Newfoundland, including fundamental and applied research and creative scholarly activities; Building partnerships with other universities, research organizations, government and the private sector, locally, nationally and internationally; Increasing research funding to Memorial University of Newfoundland and other research organizations in the province; Enhancing the dissemination, application and commercialization of research results generated at Memorial University of Newfoundland.

7 General Information

Memorial University of Newfoundland is the only university in Newfoundland and Labrador. It has campuses in St. John's and in Corner Brook, as well as Harlow, England.
7.1 The Beginning

Memorial University College was established as a memorial to the Newfoundlanders who had lost their lives on active service during the First World War; it was later rededicated to also encompass the province's war dead of the Second World War. The College opened its doors on the old Parade grounds in St. John's to a total student body of 55 on September 15, 1925.

7.2 University Status

The elevation of the College to the full status of a university was one of the priorities of the first post-Confederation Government. At the initial session of our Provincial House of Assembly, July 13, 1949, the intention of the Government of the day was conveyed by the then Lieutenant-Governor, the Honourable Sir Albert Walsh, in these words from the Speech from the Throne:

"It is considered that Newfoundland should have her own degree-conferring University and you will be invited to consider legislation which would confer upon the Memorial University College the status of a university. It is planned to widen and improve the functions, and thus increase the public usefulness of this institution created originally in honour of our illustrious dead of the First World War."

Royal assent was given the Bill creating The Memorial University of Newfoundland on August 13, 1949, exactly one month to the day from the opening of the House. The Board of Regents and the Senate were inaugurated in May 1950, and the first Convocation of the University was held on June 3, 1950, when the first degrees were awarded.

7.3 A Period of Expansion

With university status, Memorial University of Newfoundland entered a period of rapid growth that was to continue into the 70s. In 1949-1950, there was a student body of 307 in the new University; in the academic year 1961-1962, when the University moved to its present campus, the student enrolment had reached 1745 full-time and 152 part-time. Ten years later, 1971-1972, the student population, including full- and part-time students on degree programs, was 10,980.

Meanwhile, there were equally dramatic changes in the variety and extent of available academic programs. In the early years of the University, there were two Faculties (Arts and Science, and Education). While the academic structure was quite similar in 1961, when the University moved to the present campus, areas of instruction, course offerings and degrees awarded had all increased.

Today, the University offers more than 100 undergraduate and graduate degree programs through six Faculties - Arts, Science, Education, Medicine, Engineering and Business Administration; and six Schools - Graduate Studies, Nursing, Human Kinetics and Recreation, Social Work, Music and Pharmacy; and also offers degree programs in Fine Arts. Student enrolment in 2007-08 totalled 17,103. Further information regarding enrolment statistics can be found in the Fact Book at www.mun.ca/ciap/fact_book.php.

In 1975, the University established a campus in Corner Brook. The College was re-named the Sir Wilfred Grenfell College in 1979 honouring the memory of the medical missionary who pioneered medicine in Northern Newfoundland and along the coast of Labrador. Since its opening, Grenfell College has progressed from a junior college offering first- and second-year courses to providing entire degrees in the areas of arts, fine arts, science, and nursing. The first degrees, in the disciplines of theatre and visual arts, were introduced in 1988. Most recently, Grenfell College has introduced degree programs in tourism studies and a Bachelor of Education Program (Primary/Elementary) fast-track option. The College currently offers degree programs in 14 disciplines. For more information see www.swgc.mun.ca.

In 1992 the Marine Institute joined the University, becoming the Fisheries and Marine Institute of Memorial University of Newfoundland. Founded in 1964, the Marine Institute offers a range of certificate, diploma and degree programs in fisheries and marine technology and is involved in research and technology transfer. For more information see www.mi.mun.ca.

Memorial University of Newfoundland's faculty and students actively participate in research and development. This University is one of the most important research facilities in Atlantic Canada and has developed numerous research programs and facilities that are among the most advanced in the world. For a complete listing of research facilities see www.mun.ca/research/units.

7.4 The Campuses

7.4.1 St. John's

The St. John's campus covers a total area of approximately 220 acres. It is divided by Prince Philip Drive, a four-lane arterial road that runs east to west across the campus. To the south, the boundary is Elizabeth Avenue; to the north, Long Pond and Kelly's Farm. The western boundary follows Westerland Road, west along Prince Philip Drive and north along Wicklow Street; on the east, the campus is bounded by Higgins's Line and adjoins the St. John's Arts & Culture Centre property on Allandale Road.

On the campus to the south of Prince Philip Drive are the Arts and Administration, Science, Chemistry-Physics, Education (G.A. Hickman), Mathematics (Henrietta Harvey), Physical Education, Biotechnology, Facilities Management and Music (M.O. Morgan) buildings; as well as the Queen Elizabeth II Library, Inco Innovation Centre, Paton College residence complex, Burton's Pond Apartments, Campus Childcare Inc., and a number of smaller buildings. The Works recreation complex was opened in 2002, comprising the Aquarena, Field House and other sports and recreation facilities on campus. Spanning Prince Philip Drive is the Smallwood Centre, containing student services and student union operations, as well as recreation and dining facilities.

North of Prince Philip Drive are the Health Sciences Centre incorporating the Faculty of Medicine, the School of Nursing, the School of Pharmacy, and the General Hospital Corporation; the Engineering (S.J. Carew), the Alexander Murray, the Faculty of Business Administration, and the C-CORE (Captain Robert A. Bartlett) buildings, St. John's College, Coughlan College, Queen's College, Spencer Hall, and the Fisheries and Marine Institute on Ridge Road. The National Research Council's Institute for Ocean Technology is also located on the north side of the campus. Slightly further north is the Memorial University of Newfoundland Botanical Garden. The Ocean Sciences Centre is located to the west at Logy Bay.

The Fisheries and Marine Institute is headquartered on Ridge Road in St. John's, and is Canada's leading centre of education, training, applied research and technology transfer for the ocean industries. As part of Memorial University of Newfoundland, Marine Institute offers degrees, advanced diplomas, diplomas of technology, certificates in such fields as marine transportation, food and water quality, naval architecture, aquaculture, coastal zone management and marine environmental.

The institute has a number of state-of-the-art centres and units, including the Offshore Safety and Survival Centre (OSSC), the Safety Emergency and Response Training Centre (SERT), the Centre of Marine Simulation (CMS), the Centre for Aquaculture and Seafood Development (C-ASD), Mi International and the Centre for Sustainable and Aquatic Resources (C-SAR). These areas lead to the institution in applied research and technology transfer and also provide training to a variety of industry clients.

7.4.2 Corner Brook

Memorial University of Newfoundland's Corner Brook campus, Sir Wilfred Grenfell College, stands on a magnificent 185-acre site with a spectacular view of the city of Corner Brook and the Bay of Islands.

The campus was established in 1975, and in 1979 was named in honour of Sir Wilfred Grenfell, a medical missionary who pioneered medicine in northern Newfoundland and along the coast of Labrador. Located on University Drive, Grenfell College's small campus features four academic buildings. The Arts and Science building houses administrative offices, academic classrooms and labs, recreational facilities, a bookstore and a student residence. Student housing has since been expanded to include five chalet-style apartment buildings, as ground was recently broken to construct another major residence complex on campus. The Fine Arts building features state-of-the-art facilities for theatre and visual arts programs. The Library and Computing contains the Ferris Hodgett Library, a computer lab and lecture hall facilities. The Student Centre, an annex to the Arts and Science building, provides dining and recreational space for the student population, as well as office space for the Grenfell College Student Union. The Forest Centre houses classroom, lab and lecture space, as well as the offices of the Canadian Forest Service and other partners. Through a partnership with the city of Corner Brook, Memorial University of Newfoundland recently assumed operation of the city's civic centre (the Pepsi Centre), which houses two ice surfaces, a fitness centre, and meeting, conference and concert venues.

Sir Wilfred Grenfell College's programs are a testament to the beauty that surrounds the campus. Artists find their inspiration in the landscape and culture of the area. Scientists and researchers strive to protect the natural wonder of the place. Historians research our varied history, and literary enthusiasts write about their sense of where we are. This small, spectacular campus offers a personalized undergraduate education in a wide variety of interdisciplinary experiences: students may choose from degrees in arts, business administration, fine arts, education, nursing, science or resource management. Grenfell College's low student-instructor ratio ensures that individual attention is the norm and there is ample opportunity to get to know the faculty. Finance Manager
Mr. Simon Hatchett

In 1966 the Board of Regents approved the establishment of a small residential campus at Harlow, Essex approximately midway between London and Cambridge. The Campus went through extensive modernisation in 2002 and the refurbished campus was designed to meet the needs of today's students - those from Memorial University of Newfoundland wishing to study in Europe and those in Europe interested in pursuing studies at Harlow Campus. The Campus is equipped with technologically equipped meeting facilities and residence accommodations for up to 51, as well as excellent food service capacity.

Up until March 2007, the Campus was operated by the Harlow Campus Trust, but in April 2007 the trust was replaced by a new company entitled MUN (UK), a company limited by guarantee and incorporated under English Law, to direct the operations of the Campus.

The main campus building is a converted 19th century Maltings (formerly used for drying barley for brewing) - accommodating 40 students in twin ensuite accommodation, which can be converted to single accommodation when required. In addition there is a purpose designed single bedroom for a disabled guest. A further 10 students can be accommodated in Cabot House, a self-contained residence house in a 17th century cottage with four twin rooms and two single rooms all with shared facilities.

Each bedroom in both the Maltings and Cabot House has a direct dial inward telephone and computer point with internet access (for use with personal lap-top computers).

The Campus has three fully self-contained faculty properties each with one double and one twin room. These are two apartments at 44 and 46 Market Street and St. John's Cottage.

Conference/training space is available in St. John's House, which is the main lecture hall situated in a converted Victorian Schoolhouse. The lecture hall is fully networked and has audio visual connectivity. Flexible seating arrangements means the facility can comfortably accommodate up to 30 delegates. Additional conference/training space is available in the Lord Taylor Room situated in the Maltings. This conference room is fully networked and has flexible seating arrangements accommodating up to 20 delegates.

The Resources Room in the Maltings accommodates the library and small computer suite (which is set up to be additional teaching space when required). An area of the room is designed to be quiet space with study cubicles and comfortable seating.

There are a number of scholarships, bursaries and awards available to students wishing to attend Harlow. For further information refer to the Scholarships, Bursaries and Awards section.

Specific enquiries about academic programs offered at Harlow should be directed to the appropriate Dean/Director/Principal or Dr. G. Gardner, Associate Vice President (Academic), Office of the Associate Vice-President (Academic), Memorial University of Newfoundland, St. John's, NL, A1C 5S7, or by telephone at (709) 737-8411, or by fax at (709) 737-2074.

General enquiries about the Harlow Campus should be directed in writing to Ms. Sandra Wright, General Manager, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Harlow Campus, The Maltings, St. John's Walk, Market Street, Harlow, Essex CM17 OAJ, UK., or by telephone at 011 44 1279 455902, or by fax at 011 44 1279 455921, or by e-mail at wright@hcampus.inty.net.

Up to date information on the Harlow Campus and academic programs is available at www.mun.ca/harlow.

7.5 Objectives of the University

The objectives of Memorial University of Newfoundland are: to develop in the province an institution of higher learning deserving of respect for the quality of its academic standards and of its research; to establish new programs to meet the expanding needs of the province; and to provide the means whereby the University may reach out to all the people.

In 1994 the University adopted a mission statement:

Memorial University is committed to excellence in teaching, research and scholarship, and service to the general public.

Memorial University recognizes a special obligation to educate the citizens of Newfoundland and Labrador, to undertake research on the challenges this province faces and to share its expertise with the community.

This mission is at the core of this University's plans for its programs, campuses and activities at home and abroad. To learn more about the University's evolving plans and priorities, see www.mun.ca/strategicplanning/.

7.10 University Constitution
The Constitution of the University is embodied in an Act of the House of Assembly of Newfoundland entitled An Act Respecting the Memorial University of Newfoundland, Chap. 231, Revised Statutes of Newfoundland (as amended). The Act delineates the authority and the functions of the University and its parts, as follows:

There shall be a university which shall be called the Memorial University of Newfoundland, consisting of a Chancellor, Convocation, Board of Regents, Senate, Faculty Councils and the Faculties and which shall be a body politic and corporate. No other university having corporate powers capable of being exercised within Newfoundland shall be known by the same name, nor shall any other university have power to grant degrees.

The University shall have full power and authority from time to time and at all times to establish and maintain such faculties, colleges, schools, institutions, departments, chairs and courses as to the Board of Regents may seem meet, and to give instructions and training; to grant degrees, including honorary degrees, diplomas and certificates of proficiency; to provide facilities for the prosecution of original research in every branch of knowledge and learning and to conduct and carry on such research work; and generally, to promote and carry on the work of a university in all its branches.

7.10.1 The Board of Regents
The management, administration and control of the property, revenue, business and affairs of the University are vested in a Board of Regents, consisting of:

1. three ex-officio members
   a. the Chancellor of the University
   b. the President of the University
   c. the Vice-President of the University who is the Pro Vice-Chancellor;
2. six members elected by the Alumni Association of the University;
3. seventeen members appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council; and
4. four members appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council being full-time students of the University who
   a. meet the requirements set out in the regulations, and
   b. are recommended to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council by the board following the recommendation to the board of one candidate each from the following student unions:
      i. the Memorial University of Newfoundland Students' Union,
      ii. the Graduate Students' Union,
      iii. the Marine Institute Students' Union, and
      iv. the Grenfell College Student Union.
7.10.2 The Senate
Matters of an academic character are in general charge of the Senate of the University, consisting of the following:
1. The Chancellor of the University;
2. ex-officio members who shall be
   a. the President of the University, who shall be the chairman thereof,
   b. the Vice-President (Academic) of the University, who shall be the deputy chairman thereof,
   c. the Deputy Minister of Education or a representative of the Deputy Minister,
   d. the Principal of the Sir Wilfred Grenfell College,
   e. the Deans of the Faculties of the University,
   f. the Dean of Graduate Studies,
   g. the University Librarian,
   h. the University Registrar, and
   i. such other persons holding office within the University or in any of the colleges or institutions affiliated with the University chosen in such number and manner as may be approved by the Board;
3. such members from the academic staff of the Faculties and Professional Schools of the University, exclusive of any person who is a member by virtue of paragraph 2., elected in such number and manner as may be approved by the Board, but the number elected under this paragraph shall be not less than twice the number of members named or chosen under paragraph 2.; and
4. thirteen members from the students in attendance at the University, including at least one student from the Marine Institute, one graduate student and one student from Sir Wilfred Grenfell College with all members to be chosen in a manner approved by the Board.

7.10.3 Convocation
Convocation of the University, as provided in the Act, is composed of the Chancellor, the President, the Senate, the Board of Regents, all persons who are graduates of the Memorial University College, all persons holding academic appointments with the University whose names are added to the roll of the Convocation by the Registrar of the University from time to time upon instructions from the President, and all persons who have become graduates of the University. The functions of Convocation are chiefly elective, but it may also consider all questions affecting the well-being and prosperity of the University and make representations from time to time on such questions to the Senate, which shall consider the same and return to the Convocation its conclusions thereon.

7.10.4 Affiliation
The Act provides that, subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, the University may affiliate with any college or institution established in the province for the promotion of Arts and Science, or for instruction in Law, Medicine, Nursing, Education, Engineering, Agriculture or in any other useful branch of learning, and to dissolve any such affiliation. The institution which has become affiliated with the University under this provision is Queen's College, St. John's.

7.11 Queen's College

7.11.1 Faculty of Theology
Queen's College, founded in 1841, is an Associate Member of The Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada and is affiliated with Memorial University of Newfoundland. It has a Faculty of Theology which offers courses in theology and in professional training for ministry. Under Legislative authority it confers the degrees of Master of Divinity, Master of Theological Studies, and Bachelor of Theology and grants a Diploma in Theology and Ministry and an Associate in Theology.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the College in writing to The Registrar, Queen's College, St. John's, NL, A1B 3R6, or by telephone to (709) 753-0116, (877) 753-0116 (toll free), by fax to (709) 753-1214, or by e-mail to queens@mun.ca.

7.13 The University Library

The University Library consists of the Queen Elizabeth II Library, the Health Sciences Library, and the Dr. C.R. Barrett Library, Fisheries and Marine Institute, all in St. John's, and the Ferriss Hodgett Library in Corner Brook. These four units together have a collection equivalent to 2.5 million volumes and more than 26,000 current journal subscriptions. This collection serves as the major information resource for the University as well as the province. All units of the library system may be used by all students, faculty and staff, as well as the community at large.

7.13.1 Queen Elizabeth II Library

The Queen Elizabeth II Library was opened for service in January 1982. It is an impressive structure of 200,000 square feet on five levels. It has a seating capacity of 2,000 and can hold 1.6 million physical volumes. The Information Services Division, located on the main floor (second level), provides assistance to people wishing to make use of the library's resources and services. This division provides reference and computer-assisted bibliographic search services. Library tours and individual or group instruction in the use of the library and its resources may be arranged for students through this division. Information Services is part of the Commons, located on the Library's main floor. The Commons is a partnership between Computing and Communications, the Queen Elizabeth II Library, and the Writing Centre. The Commons provides access to print, electronic, and technology resources with the support and expertise needed to help users in the use of these resources. The wall space in the Commons is called First Space and is used to highlight the work of the fine arts students of Memorial University of Newfoundland. The Government Documents Section contains a depository collection of Canadian government documents together with an extensive collection of material from the United States and other countries and international organizations. The Lending Services Division provides interlibrary loan and services to off-campus students as well as maintaining the stacks in the library. The Library's Centre for Newfoundland Studies collects all published material pertaining to Newfoundland and Labrador, as well as manuscript materials. The Music Resource Centre, located in the School of Music, contains scores, sound recordings, and listening equipment.

7.13.2 Health Sciences Library

The Health Sciences Library is located on the ground floor of the Health Sciences Centre on the north campus of the University. It is a designated Canadian MEDLINE Centre which provides access to computer-assisted searches of the world's biomedical literature on demand in support of clinical, teaching, and research interests. The Health Sciences Library has a collection of over 40,000 books on medicine, nursing, dentistry, pharmacy and allied health subjects and subscribes to more than 1700 paper and electronic journals. It maintains an audio-visual collection of over 1500 titles, which includes videotapes, slides, microfiche/film and audio cassettes.

7.13.3 Dr. C.R. Barrett Library

The Dr. C.R. Barrett Library is located on the main floor of the Fisheries and Marine Institute. It offers a comprehensive range of library and audio-visual services to students, faculty, and staff at the Fisheries and Marine Institute, the College of North Atlantic Engineering Technology Centre and to the Newfoundland and Labrador marine industries. The library collection supports study and research in fisheries and aquaculture, marine engineering, nautical science, and the aquatic environment. The collection also includes significant holdings in engineering. Library holdings include 50,000 books and technical reports, 400 current magazine and newspaper subscriptions, print and electronic reference sources, 1,400 films and videos, maps and pamphlets. The collection includes 4,500 ship drawings.

7.13.4 Ferriss Hodgett Library

The Ferriss Hodgett Library is located on levels 2 and 3 of the Library & Computing Building, Sir Wilfred Grenfell College, Corner Brook campus, with seating for 203 users and includes group study rooms, audio-visual and computer carrels. The Library holds over 100,000 books and 450 current subscriptions, along with collections of audio-visual materials, government documents, microforms, periodicals, and access to many e-journals. A full range of public services is available including reference assistance, orientation tours and interlibrary loans, as well as access to electronic information resources, Internet, spreadsheet, word processing, and presentation software.

8 Student Affairs and Services

The Dean of Student Affairs and Services is the senior person responsible for the coordination and implementation of support services for students and serves as a liaison between the student body and university administration. The primary goal of the Dean is to promote a welcoming and supportive environment so that students are able to maximize their opportunities for learning and personal development. The Dean provides leadership and direction so that students' educational experiences are enriched by the provision of programs that respond to their intellectual, emotional, occupational, financial, personal, physical and social needs. The Dean is administratively responsible for the divisions of Career Development and Experiential Learning, Counselling, Student Health Service, Student Success Programs, University Bookstore, University Centre and Housing, Food and Conference Services. As an advocate for... students, the Dean works collaboratively with all members of the university community to ensure that policies, procedures and programs foster the optimal development for all students.

8.1 Canadian Forces University Training Plans

Selected students may qualify for financial assistance through these Canadian Forces University Training Plans: the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP), the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP-Coop), the Dental Officer Training Plan (DOTP), the Medical Officer Training Plan (MOTP), and the Reserve Entry Scheme Officer (RESO). Full details may be obtained in writing to the Canadian Forces Recruiting Centre Detachment St. John’s, Sir Humphrey Gilbert Building, 165 Duckworth Street, St. John’s, NL or the Canadian Forces Recruiting Centre Detachment Corner Brook, GIBC Building, 9 Main Street, Suite 203, Corner Brook, NL.

8.2 Career Development and Experiential Learning

Career Development and Experiential Learning encompasses a broad range of programs designed to assist undergraduates, graduate students, and alumni of the University explore their career options. The Department includes the Centre for Career Development, Cooperative Education Services Centre and the Student Volunteer Bureau.

8.2.1 Centre for Career Development

The Centre for Career Development assists students and alumni explore their career options. The Centre provides labour market information, employability skills workshops, individual consultations, and employment counselling, and enables students to gain practical career-related experiences through graduate, summer, and part-time employment.

The Centre operates on a drop-in basis designed to help students gather information relevant to educational and career goals, and develop both short and long-term career plans. Workshops are offered to enhance the job search process for students and alumni.

The Centre currently markets Memorial University of Newfoundland students to local, national, and international employer groups as well as assists employers with their on-campus recruitment needs. Information sessions and career fairs are provided to assist students in their transition to the world of work.

Postings for summer, part-time, and graduate employment are advertised throughout the year at www.mun.ca/cdel/career/ccd.php. Students are encouraged to check the Centre's postings on a regular basis. The Centre for Career Development is located on the fourth floor of the Smallwood Centre in UC4002 and is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

8.2.2 Co-operative Education Services Centre (CESC)

The Co-operative Education Services Centre (CESC) is responsible for providing a range of services common to all Co-operative Education programs at the University. This includes coordinating marketing initiatives on behalf of all co-op programs at the university; developing and maintaining business and government participation in the co-op programs; assisting the job placement process for more than 700 students per semester; encouraging the development of professional and scholarly skills pertinent to co-operative education; designing and implementing an integrated automated office information system; administering the Offshore Career Awards Program, and the Small Enterprise Co-operative Placement Assistance Program (SECPAP).

8.3 Counselling Centre

The primary function of the Counselling Centre is to help students develop their personal capabilities. Through individualized personal counselling and a wide range of programs, students are encouraged and helped to develop their own unique resources and thereby promote personal growth and intellectual development. The Centre also serves as a training centre for advanced students in a number of helping professions. Services will be offered free of charge to students in three basic areas.

8.3.1 Chaplaincy

The Chaplaincy is currently comprised of chaplains representing the Anglican, United, Salvation Army, Pentecostal and Roman Catholic denominations. The Chaplaincy attempts to provide resources, guidance and support for members of the university community. The Chaplaincy also seeks to bring a faith dimension to contemporary issues such as peace, justice, technology and science. The chaplains offer individual pastoral counselling as well as joint programs including weekly workshops, discussion groups, social activities and worship opportunities. Schedules of events are available from the chaplains or through the website at www.mun.ca/ministries/. The Chaplaincy is located at UC5001.

8.3.2 Glenn Roy Blundon Centre for Students with Disabilities

The Glenn Roy Blundon Centre for Students with Disabilities coordinates services for students with disabilities and those with short-term illnesses and injuries attending Memorial University of Newfoundland’s St. John’s campus. Services and accommodations include: assistance arranging academic accommodations for tests and exams (medical or psycho-educational documentation is required), access to adaptive technology and software, orientation of new students, note-taking assistance, card access to wheelchair elevators and lifts on campus, in-servicing of faculty and staff regarding disability issues and accommodations, and a liaising network between students, faculty, staff, and community groups. A copy of the University’s Policy on Academic Accommodations for Students with Disabilities is available at www.mun.ca/policy/site/index.php. For further information contact the Centre by visiting the University Centre, room UC4007, or by telephone to (709) 737-2156 (Voice), (709) 737-4763 (TTY), or by e-mail to blundon@mun.ca, or through the website at www.mun.ca/blundon.

For information about the services available at Sir Wilfred Grenfell College, contact the Student Services Learning Centre in person to AS235, or by telephone to (709) 637-6268, or through the website at www.swgc.mun.ca/lcentre/Pages/default.aspx.

For information about the services available at the Fisheries and Marine Institute, contact the Student Services Guidance Office in person to W3013C, or by telephone to (709) 778-0310, or by email to guidance@mi.mun.ca, or through the website at www.mi.mun.ca/guidance/.

8.3.3 Individual and Group Counselling for Other Personal Concerns

In addition to individualized personal counselling, the Centre offers specialized group and/or training programs. For many students the fear of testing, fear of asserting one’s self and continued mental and physical stress can lead to poor academic performance or personal problems. These, and other such difficulties, can be dealt with on either an individual or group basis, depending upon the student’s needs. The Counselling Centre routinely offers a variety of groups: Assertiveness Training, Developing Healthy Relationships, Mood Management, Test Anxiety, and others on demand.
8.3.4 Learning Enhancement Programs

Through a number of short groups and structured activities, students may actively enhance their learning capabilities. Most of the learning programs offered train participants to employ a number of organizational techniques to comprehend and, later, to recall important concepts. Specific programs offered through the Centre apply these ideas to the areas of Speed Reading and Comprehension, Organizing Ideas for Term Papers and Essays, and Oral Communication.

8.3.5 Psycho-Educational Testing

A psycho-educational assessment program is offered on a fee-for-service basis for students seeking academic accommodations. The Counselling Centre is located in the Smallwood Centre, and is open 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. (4:30 p.m. in the summer), Monday through Friday. All services are free of charge to students and appointments can be made in person at UC5000, or by telephone to (709) 737-8874, or email at counselc@mun.ca, or by visiting the website at www.mun.ca/counselling/home/psychoed.php.

8.3.6 UCC 2020: Applied Cognitive and Affective Learning Strategies for Undergraduate Students

This 3 credit hour course is an introduction to cognitive and affective learning strategies and techniques with an emphasis on the application of these techniques in the students’ own learning repertoires together with an overview of relevant research from cognitive psychology and related fields. Topics covered will include information processing, memory, forgetting, problem solving, metacognition, general and specific learning strategies, learning styles, and affective strategies.

8.3.7 Wellness Programs

Wellness Programs co-ordinate a broad range of health and wellness services for the student community. Our main mission is to raise awareness to the many self-care skills needed for all. Our programs consist of the peer helper program and the many other outreach events organized by this office. Located in the Counselling Centre, wellness education works with in collaboration with various campus and community organizations to help facilitate wellness promotion at the University.

Inquiries may be made in-person at UC5002A, by telephone to (709) 737-2659, or through the website at www.mun.ca/student/healthy/.

8.4 Firearms On Campus

Students are reminded that firearms (including air-rifles, air-guns and sling shots) may not be brought into, or used in, any part of the University except the rifle range.

8.5 Housing, Food and Conference Services

It is the responsibility of each student to locate accommodation on or off the Campus. Accommodation on campus is available at Paton College and Burton’s Pond Apartments. All residents of on-campus housing must abide by the rules and regulations as set out by Housing, Food and Conference Services. Eligibility for admission or readmission to Paton College or Burton’s Pond Apartments is based on several factors, including responsible behaviour and potential to contribute to the quality of student life. Housing Services reserves the right to refuse admission or re-admission to any student. The processing fee is non-refundable and non-creditable in all instances. Further information and applications about on campus accommodations may be obtained through the website at www.mun.ca/hfcs, or by email to housing@mun.ca, or by telephone to (709) 737-7590/91/92, or in writing to Housing, Food and Conference Services, Room 309 Hatcher House, Memorial University of Newfoundland, St. John’s, Newfoundland and Labrador A1B 3P7.

8.5.1 Burton’s Pond Apartments

Burton’s Pond Apartments is a residential complex located at the eastern end of Memorial University of Newfoundland’s St. John’s campus. This complex houses approximately 512 single students in four apartment buildings Cabot Court, Cartier Court, Gilbert Court, and Guy Court. Fifteen two-bedroom family units are contained in Baltimore Court, and there is a service building - Corte Real Court - containing a computer room, a laundry centre, a study room, a common room, and students’ mail boxes which are accessible to residents 24 hours a day. Each apartment unit in the four single students buildings is occupied by four students, each of whom has a private bedroom and share the kitchen, living room and bathroom. All residents entering Burton’s Pond Apartments will be required to sign a two-semester occupancy agreement for the Fall and Winter Semesters.

8.5.2 Off-Campus Housing

Housing, Food and Conference Services also offers a method to find off-campus housing in and around the St. John’s area. Off-Campus Housing (OCH) provides information, enhanced web resources and programming to students of Memorial University of Newfoundland who secure off-campus housing through their website. The objective is to help make the work of finding and securing housing easier for students and landlords. Housing, Food and Conference Services personnel will conduct site visits, review the rental properties using the Off-Campus Housing Amenity Checklist, and update the web site information. These listings are provided for information only; they are not endorsed in any way by Memorial University of Newfoundland or Housing, Food and Conference Services. The University does not take any responsibility for these accommodations. Further information may be obtained on the website at www.housing.mun.ca/och, or by email och@mun.ca, or telephone to (709) 737-3765.

8.5.3 Paton College

Paton College is a residential complex located at the eastern end of Memorial University of Newfoundland’s St. John’s campus. This complex, which houses approximately 1000 students in ten dormitories, offers both single gender (female only) and co-ed living. Offers of rooms at Paton College are conditional on students being accepted and registered at Memorial University of Newfoundland or the Fisheries and Marine Institute. Students who are not accepted to the University must notify the Student Housing Office of their intention to cancel accommodations immediately upon notification from the University. All accommodations at Paton College are on a room and board basis. Occupancy of rooms extends from the day before registration until 12:00 noon the day after the last regularly scheduled undergraduate examination. Residence fees cover the period of a particular semester only. Those residents who have an academic requirement to be in residence between semesters may be provided with room accommodation if space is available and approved by Housing, Food and Conference Services. An additional charge for such accommodation will be applied to the student’s account. Housing, Food and Conference Services reserves the right to deny accommodation outside the normal semester period if space is needed for other purposes. All new registrants entering Paton College will be required to sign a two-semester occupancy agreement for the Fall and Winter semesters. All students in Paton College are required to purchase a 10, 14 or 19 meal plan. Meal tickets are valid from the breakfast meal on the day following the first day of Paton College registration. The ticket expires with the evening meal on the day of University's last regularly scheduled undergraduate examination. Refunds will not be issued to students for room accommodations and/or meal tickets.

8.6 International Student Advising
The International Student Advising Office is located in Corte Real, Burton's Pond Complex, Room 1000 C. Settlement and integration of foreign students are two major functions of the advisors. New students must meet with the International Student Advisors upon arrival for advice concerning their stay at the University and their compulsory health insurance program. Further information may be obtained by telephone to (709) 737-8895 or through the website at www.mun.ca/isa/main.

8.7 Student Financial Services
Information regarding the Canada - Newfoundland and Labrador Student Loans Program is available from Student Financial Services, Department of Education, located in Coughlan College. Student Financial Services can be reached by telephone to (709) 729-4244/5849, email at www.studentaid@gov.nl.ca or through the website at www.ed.gov.nl.ca/studentaid/.

8.8 Student Health Service
The staff at Student Health Service are available to provide comprehensive health care and to assist students in taking responsibility for their own health. Primary functions of the Service are the diagnosis and treatment of illness, the activation and maintenance of wellness and the promotion of health education programs.

The Student Heath Service is located in room UC4023 on the fourth floor of the Smallwood Centre, and is open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 by appointment only, except for emergencies. Walk in clinics are scheduled throughout the week. Further information may be obtained by telephone to (709) 737-7597 or through the website at www.mun.ca/health/.

8.8.1 International Students
International students are automatically enrolled, upon registration, in the mandatory emergency medical insurance plan. International students may opt in their dependents. A personal medical card will be issued by the international Student Advising (ISA) Office and must be presented by the student each time medical or hospital services are required. The student must also sign a claim form for each medical or hospital service rendered. MCP cards are required for international students that are MCP eligible and should be presented first in the event of medical care. Further information may be obtained by contacting the International Student Advising Office.

Graduate international students eligible for provincial health coverage (MCP) should bring proof to the ISA office and opt out of the emergency plan and into the Graduate Students' Union (GSU) health plan.

Undergraduate international students eligible for provincial health coverage (MCP) should bring proof to the ISA office and opt out of the emergency plan and into the Memorial University of Newfoundland Students' Union (MUNSU) health plan.

8.8.2 Medical Records
All students' medical records are strictly confidential. No information is released without the request and written consent of the student.

8.8.3 Medical Services
Services provided include:
1. diagnosis and treatment of: physical illness, emotional problems, sexually transmitted diseases, injuries;
2. individual counselling on various aspects of health and wellness: smoking, fitness, weight control, nutrition, alcohol and drug abuse;
3. referral to: specialists, physiotherapists, hospital diagnostic services, other health care agencies;
4. reproductive health: pap smears, contraception, pregnancy - testing, referral services;
5. Injury rehabilitation programs;
6. AIDS (HIV antibody) testing: confidential blood tests, pre-test counselling, post-test counselling;
7. "Medicals" (non-insured service): pre-employment, pre-admission to professional schools, SCUBA diving, driver's license, TB skin test;
8. Educational materials on health issues
9. MCP information and application forms
10. Vaccinations

8.8.4 Medicals
"Medicals" (pre-employment, SCUBA, driver's licence, life insurance, etc.) are not covered by insurance plans and must be paid for by the student.

8.8.5 New Students
Students are encouraged to bring a copy of their medical records to the Student Health Centre. This is especially important for students who:
1. have chronic or recurrent illness, e.g. asthma, diabetes, inflammatory bowel disease, seizure disorders;
2. require refills of prescription drugs;
3. have a physical disability, e.g. cerebral palsy, spina bifida, visual or hearing impairment; or
4. have a history of mental illness.

8.8.6 Newfoundland and Labrador Students
MCP cards are required.

8.8.7 Payment
The University will bill the appropriate paying agency for the eligible medical services received at the Student Health Service.
8.8.8 Students From Other Canadian Provinces
Students from other Canadian provinces are required to bring their provincial medicare cards.

8.9 Student Success Programs
Student Success Programs is responsible for the development and administration of programs and activities for students, the identification and assessment of emerging campus trends, long range and strategic planning, fostering and supporting campus leadership as it relates to student governments, campus committees, clubs, and departments to student development for students.

Student Success Programs works closely with students, staff and faculty and the community at large to maximize the quality of student and academic life for students. Student Success Programs is comprised of the following specialty areas:

8.9.1 Answers
Answers is a front line service centre for a variety of programs and services for students. Answers coordinates leadership programs such as Orientation for students and parents, Leadership, Education and Preparation (LEAP!), Leader Forum, Horizons and Memorial Ambassador. It also offers distribution of the Canada-Newfoundland Student Loans Program, Campus Card and locker rentals. For further information contact Answers by telephone to (709) 737-7461, by email to answers@mun.ca, or through the website at www.mun.ca/answers/about, or by visiting the centre at UC 3005.

8.9.2 Native Liaison Office
In cooperation with the Nunatsiavut Government, all native students are provided a range of services to assist with the university experience. Inquiries may be made in-person at UC4003 or by telephone to (709) 737-3495, or through the website at www.munsu.ca/hlo/about.

8.9.3 Scholarships, Bursaries and Awards
Student Affairs and Services administers the Scholarships, Bursaries and Awards Program for the University, distributes out of Province Financial Aid, and emergency financial aid. Inquiries may be made in-person at UC4018, by telephone to (709) 737-3956, or through the website at www.mun.ca/scholarships/home.

8.10 Student Unions

8.10.1 Memorial University of Newfoundland Students' Union (MUNSU)
The Memorial University of Newfoundland Students' Union Act (1968) incorporated the Students' Union (MUNSU) as the official students' union representing undergraduate students at the University's St. John's campus.
The Students' Union provides a range of advocacy work to improve the lives of its members and increase accessibility of post-secondary education. It lobbies all levels of government and other decision-making bodies and organizes campaigns around these and other issues which are important to the membership. It also provides services to improve the quality of student life: the Copy Centre and Postal Service, Health and Dental Insurance, SafeDrive / WalkSafe, the Student Handbook/Dayplanner, Breezeway Bar, CHMR-FM radio, and others. The cost of services are partially funded by Students' Union fees paid by each undergraduate student upon registration. MUNSU assists students on an individual basis to resolve student aid as well as academic-based problems and appeals. Through the offices of the Director of Advocacy, problems with appeals, assessments, repayment, and general complaints in these areas are addressed.
The Students' Union offers free legal services to students and a legal aid supervisor is available for appointment. These sessions are not considered extended legal counsel. Students who have more serious issues may be referred to the MUNSU lawyer, for one free consultation, per issue, per semester.
MUNSU has established and provides funding for a number of Resource Centres on campus: Women's Resource Centre (WRC), International Students' Centre (ISC), Lesbian-Bisexual-Gay-Transgendered Resource Centre (LBGT-MUN), MUN DISC (Disability Information and Support Centre), Students Older than Average (SOTA), Student Parents Resource Centre, and the Aboriginal Students' Centre. The Students' Union also operates over 100 student clubs organized around a wide range of academic and extracurricular activities.
The Students' Union is a member of the Canadian Federation of Students (CFS) representing over half a million students across Canada. Further information may be obtained from the website at www.munsu.ca.

8.10.2 Students' Union Fee
All full-time and part-time undergraduate and graduate students of the University pay compulsory fees to their respective students' unions (MUNSU or GSU) and all students, upon registration, automatically become members of either MUNSU, the undergraduate students' union, or GSU, the graduate students' union.

8.10.3 The Graduate Students' Union (GSU)
The Graduate Students' Union (GSU) at Memorial University of Newfoundland is an organization run for graduate students by graduate students. Founded in 1967, the GSU is one of Canada's oldest independently incorporated graduate student governments. Every graduate student at the University becomes a member of the GSU upon registration. Presently, the graduate student body consists of over 2000 full and part-time students, thereby comprising approximately 10% of the total student population at Memorial University of Newfoundland.
The Graduate Students' Union has two main functions: 1) to represent and protect the interests of the graduate students at all levels of university governance, and 2) to help enhance the quality of graduate student life at Memorial University of Newfoundland. Graduate student fees, presently $20 per semester per student, provide the GSU with an annual operating budget. These fees are used to run the GSU office, help finance social and academic events for graduate students, provide conference aid for students presenting at conferences, and to cover other operating expenses.
The Graduate Students' Union is run by a Board of Directors consisting of the five GSU Executive officers and one student representative from each academic unit with a graduate program. Additionally, graduate students who sit on various university committees regularly attend. The Board meets once a month to guide the development and direction of the organization. The Board meetings also give students a chance to raise concerns from their individual departments and in return, to receive advice or suggestions on problem solving. These meetings are the main line of communication between the Executive officers and the graduate student population at the University. It is for this reason, that the GSU needs an active and interested Board of Directors. Graduate students who are interested in getting involved are always welcome, and should speak to their department representative, or contact the GSU office.

The Graduate Students’ Union is located in Feild Hall on the north side of campus. Operated by the GSU, Feild Hall is comprised of four floors: the top two floors for a graduate student residence, one floor for departmental graduate student offices and GSU offices, and the ground floor for Bitters - Restaurant and Lounge, the pub owned and operated by the GSU.

The Graduate Students’ Union general office is located on the second floor of Feild Hall in room GH 2007. Office hours are posted outside the office door, on the answering service, and the website. You can reach the GSU by phone to (709) 737-4395, by fax at (709) 737-3395, by email to gsu@gsumun.ca, or by writing to Graduate Students' Union, Feild Hall, GH2007, 216 Prince Philip Drive, St. John's, NL A1B 3R5. Further information about the GSU can be obtained from the website at www.gsumun.ca.

8.11 University Bookstore

The University Bookstore is the on-campus site for text, reference and general reading. The Bookstore carries stationery, school supplies, crested clothing, backpacks and memorabilia. Distance Education students are to order textbooks through Bookstore website. The University Bookstore is located at UC2006, telephone to (709) 737-7440, or website at www.bookstore.mun.ca.

9 Dentistry, Physiotherapy, and Occupational Therapy

9.1 General Information

Because admission requirements vary significantly in different institutions and from one health science to another (e.g., Dentistry, Dental Hygiene, Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy), interested students are advised to plan carefully and early.

The Career Planning Centre, located in the University Centre in room UC4002, can provide advice or, in some instances, arrange for students to contact other sources of more detailed information. The Centre maintains considerable information on careers in the various health fields, including guides and university calendars outlining where the programs of study are available and their entrance requirements. Interested students should consult these materials as early as possible, preferably before the Orientation Week interview and first-year registration.

9.2 Dentistry

After having consulted the Career Planning Centre, students who require further advice about dentistry prerequisites should consult Dr. Faye Murrin, Department of Biology in room S4109, who has agreed to act as the faculty advisor for pre-dental students.

9.3 Occupational Therapy

Students interested in pursuing a career in Occupational Therapy may arrange an appointment with Brenda Head, who has been designated by Memorial University of Newfoundland as a liaison person for the School of Occupational Therapy at Dalhousie University. Further information may be obtained by writing Ms. Brenda Head, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Room 2765, Health Science Centre, St. John's, NL A1B 3V6, or by telephone to (709) 777-7105.

9.4 Physiotherapy

Physiotherapy career information is available at the Career Planning Centre. Students requiring additional assistance or advice may arrange an appointment with Janet O'Dea.

Ms. O'Dea has been designated by Memorial University of Newfoundland as a liaison person with Dalhousie University, School of Physiotherapy and as a source of advice concerning other Physiotherapy Programs in Canada. Further information may be obtained by writing Janet O’Dea, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Room 2765, Health Sciences Centre, St. John's, NL A1B 3V6, or by telephone to (709) 777-7080, or through the website at www.med.mun.ca/OTPT/.

10 Distance Education and Learning Technologies (DELT)

Vaughan, A.M., B.A., B.Ed., Memorial, M.A. British Columbia

Associate Director, Learning Technologies and Media Design
Wells, R., B.Sc.(Hons.), M.Ed. Memorial

Manager, Operations
Langdon, J., B.Comm.(Co-op) Memorial, CGA

Manager, Instructional Development Office
Dunne, M., B.A., B.Ed., M.Ed. Memorial, Ph.D. OISE/UT

Administrative Staff
Mah, P., Secretary
Porter, C., Administrative Staff Specialist

Distance Education and Learning Technologies (DELT) is responsible for the design, development and delivery of credit courses and degree programs via distance; advancement and support of e-learning throughout the University; and support for students and faculty in the use and application of technologies for effective teaching and learning. Through its activities DELT connects students across the province, the country and the world that have limited educational opportunities due to time and location. It also works to enhance, promote and support an e-learning vision throughout the institution. DELT strives to provide faculties and departments with the e-learning expertise and knowledge needed to progress the University’s mandate in expanding and improving its online education delivery. A Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of Education's Centre for Distance Learning and Innovation (CDLI), who deliver distance education to K-12 students, allows DELT to share knowledge and information and prepare for the incoming university student.

10.1 Distance Education

Distance Education and Learning Technologies (DELT) offers approximately 400 courses – all of which are web-based – to approximately 17,000 course registrants annually. Courses are available in various disciplines in 10 faculties and schools with complete undergraduate and graduate degrees available via distance including bachelors’ degrees in arts (Bachelor of Arts (English major), Bachelor of Arts (Police Studies)), business (Bachelor of Business Administration), maritime studies (Bachelor of Maritime Studies), nursing (Bachelor of Nursing (Post RN)), and technology (Bachelor of Technology); Masters’ degrees are offered in education (Master of Education (Information Technology), Master of Education (Post-Secondary)), human kinetics and recreation (Master of Physical
General Information 2010-2011

Education), and nursing (Master of Nursing). Courses are delivered via the Internet, however, some courses include print materials (i.e. manual, readings, textbooks), CD/video/DVD programs and web conferencing sessions.

10.2 Student Service and Delivery
DELT’s Student Service and Delivery model utilizes a 1-1-1 approach; one response to one inquiry by one staff representative. This model incorporates a hands-on approach with a self-service website which provides the self-directed distance student with access to relevant and important information during off-peak hours. This system effectively places specific information, such as course materials, in the hands of students thereby reducing wait times and allowing for effective communications with students on specific matters.

Further information on distance education programs may be obtained by telephone to (709) 737-8700, or toll free to (866) 435-1396, or by fax to (709) 737-6783, or through the website at www.distance.mun.ca.

10.3 Course Development (Design, Development and Delivery)
DELT combines the expertise of specialists including Instructional Designers, Multi-media specialists, Video Producers, Publications Specialists, etc. to work closely with academic units and professors to develop, manage and deliver the University’s distance education programs in a manner conducive to instruction via distance. All functions encourage and support innovative teaching practices through the application of instructional technologies in both on-campus teaching and distance education.

Within this function, DELT provides a wide range of professional media development, production, post-production, and distribution services. Video services include broadcast-quality studio and mobile facilities, and production services such as digital cameras, AVID non-linear editing, digitization, international standards conversion, tape and DVD production, distribution and the Internet. Multimedia specialties include print layout and design, illustration, television graphics and animation, 3D visualization, and web design. Technical staff offer consultation, design, installation and maintenance services for multimedia teaching facilities.

Classroom Support Services provides multimedia and audiovisual support for teaching on-campus as well as the design of smart classrooms and/or the implementation of technologies in the classroom.

Further information on media production services may be obtained by telephone to (709) 737-3423 or by fax to (709) 737-6783.

10.4 Instructional Development Office
The Instructional Development Office provides support to the University’s faculty members and graduate students in the enhancement of their teaching knowledge and skills. The Office espouses a collaborative, responsive, and pragmatic approach to developing services and programs related to teaching and learning.

Among the services provided are professional development workshops and seminars, programs for the teaching development of graduate students, and individual and small group consultations. Support is given for awards applications and other activities and initiatives that recognize the importance of university teaching. A resource centre offers a collection of books, journals, newsletters, and video programs about instruction.

Further information on instructional development services may be obtained by telephone to (709) 737-3028, or by fax to (709) 737-4635, or by e-mail to instrdev@mun.ca.

Coordinator, Finance and Administration
Mercer, M

The Atlantic Canada Venture Gateway (Gateway) is an outreach initiative of the Faculty of Business Administration. Gateway was officially launched in October 2009 and offers two main programs, an investment readiness program and an investor partnering program.

The investment readiness program prepares Atlantic Canadian technology firms to attract private equity or venture capital. Eligible clients work with Gateway management as well as a network of university, government and industry partners on issues such as corporate strategy, the preparation of investment proposals, and due diligence readiness.

The investor partnering program supports clients seeking strategic investment from international business partners. Gateway and the Higher Colleges of Technology’s Dubai Men’s College (DMC) in the United Arab Emirates jointly offer this program. Clients gain insight and guidance from DMC’s senior advisors who provide strategic guidance and match clients with prospective investors and business partners in the Middle East region.

Specialized training programs and ongoing advisory support are also provided.

Gateway is located on the fourth floor of the Faculty of Business Administration alongside the Gardiner Centre. Further information can be obtained by contacting the Atlantic Canada Venture Gateway by telephone at (709) 737-4088 or through the website at www.busi.mun.ca/gateway.

11.2 Canadian Centre for Fisheries Innovation (CCFI)
Board of Directors
Gregory, G. (Chair)
Fisheries Consultant, St. John’s, NL
Abrahams, Dr. M.
Faculty of Science, Memorial University of Newfoundland
Andrews, R.
Located at the Fisheries and Marine Institute, the Canadian Centre for Fisheries Innovation is owned by Memorial University of Newfoundland. The Centre provides scientific research and technology services to the fishing industry. Working closely with the faculty and staff of the region's universities and technical institutes, the Centre provides expert assistance in the areas of aquaculture, harvesting and processing, with the aim of enhancing the industry's productivity and profitability. CCFI's activities also include resource conservation research, equipment development and marine biotechnology. The Centre's services are available to anyone in the fishery or aquaculture industry who wishes to overcome obstacles or meet opportunities through science and technology.

CCFI is an organization structured to meet the needs of the industry quickly and efficiently. The Industrial Liaison Officers collaborate directly with clients to develop and execute industrially relevant research and development projects.

Mandate

The organization works with industry clients to identify needs. It then collaborates with scientific and technical faculty and staff to devise solutions to meet those needs. CCFI works to ensure that the initiatives are organized, on time and directed to address the specific needs of the industry clients. The Centre also funds these projects, when required.

The Centre's research and development undertakings cover all areas of importance to the fishery and aquaculture industry:

1. Environmentally Sustainable Harvesting
2. Energy Efficiency
3. Utilization of Fish Wastes
4. Resource Assessment and Surveys
5. Improved and More Efficient Fishing Platforms
6. Human Resource/Technology Applications
7. Alternative Fish and Shellfish Species for Aquaculture
8. Efficiency and Profitability in Aquaculture
9. Resolving Environmental Issues in Aquaculture

With strong representation from industry, the Board of Directors oversees the direction and mandate of the Centre to ensure that its work is always relevant to the needs of the fishery.

C-CORE is a Canadian not-for-profit corporation providing innovative engineering solutions to national and international clients. Its dynamic team of over 60 engineering and business experts provide advanced technology solutions to production issues and market challenges encountered in primarily the nature resource sectors including offshore oil and gas production and transportation, gas transmission (onland pipelines) and mining. International and national government clients also use the services of C-CORE to address security, sustainability and safety issues related to their regulatory and operating needs.

In business since 1975, C-CORE’s specialized engineering services are focussed on technology adaptation and integration, design recommendations and engineering analyses. Project teams are assembled based on client need and draw upon the corporation’s core expertise in:

- Radar and Vision Systems
- Ice Engineering
- Geotechnical Engineering

Many complex projects require a multi-faceted solution where this expertise is combined for a complete, end-to-end solution.

From the corporation’s headquarters on Memorial University of Newfoundland’s Campus in St. John’s, Newfoundland and Labrador as well as its office in Ottawa, ON staff work with an international network of partners, often through alliances, to ensure the best solutions for clients.

C-CORE’s in house facilities include an Acutronic 680-2 centrifuge machine, a full scale buried pipeline modelling facility, mechanical, electrical, and soils laboratories to support its research and development activities, and excellent computing capabilities including the connection to a high speed network.

C-CORE works in close collaboration with Memorial University of Newfoundland, in particular the Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science and offers many opportunities for graduate and undergraduate students to work on industry relevant projects and for its employees to pursue higher education.

Sullivan, M., B.A. York, M.S.W. Carleton, Ph.D. Toronto; Associate Professor, School of Social Work

Staff
Hollett, A., Research Coordinator
Kirby, B., Interprofessional Education Project Manager
Silver, S., Administrative Assistant

The Centre was established in September 1999 in response to a growing emphasis on interprofessional health care. Centre oversight is provided through a Governing Council comprising: the Deans of the Faculties of Education and Medicine; the Directors of the Schools of Human Kinetics and Recreation, Nursing, Pharmacy and Social Work; the Director of the Counselling Centre; or their representatives.

The Centre’s mission is to enhance education in the health and social care professions through research and development in collaborative, interprofessional educational programming. Key activities of the Centre include:

- promoting, developing, facilitating and coordinating collaborative, interprofessional educational programs;
- providing expertise for the design, delivery, and evaluation of educational programs;
- promoting education-related training through the organization of educational development opportunities for faculty members;
- developing research projects and supporting collaborative research in health professional education and interprofessional practice; and
- promoting health professional education as an academic pursuit.

All members of the University community including faculty, staff, and students are invited and encouraged to be engaged in the activities of the Centre. Academic Staff Members may hold an appointment as either a Faculty Scholar or Faculty Associate of the Centre. Faculty Scholars are appointed by the Governing Council on the recommendation of the respective Dean or Director based on their active engagement in academic development and scholarly activity related to the field of interprofessional collaboration and education. Faculty Associates actively participate in curriculum development or instruction of interprofessional education programs coordinated by the Centre. They are reviewed and approved by the Governing Council on an annual basis.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Centre in writing to the Centre for Collaborative Health Professional Education, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Health Sciences Centre H2901, St. John's, NL Canada, A1B 3V6, or by telephone at (709) 777-6912, or by fax at (709) 777-6576, or through the website at www.med.mun.ca/cchpe.

The Centre for Material Culture Studies was established in 1988 to initiate, promote, and sponsor research on material culture within both the University and the general community. The Centre acts as a multidisciplinary forum for Memorial University of Newfoundland faculty members as well as visiting researchers from other institutions, including government agencies. The Centre houses a wide range of visual and documentary resources relating to material culture. Since 2008, the Centre has also been involved with the Province of Newfoundland and Labrador's work on Intangible Cultural Heritage, facilitating the provincial ICH Inventory.

The pan-university Core Research Equipment and Instrument Training Network (CREAIT) is designed to maximize the impact of Memorial University of Newfoundland's institutional investments in research through enhanced access to and utilization of major research equipment. CREATI consists of eight interconnected satellites across the St. John's campus and is responsible for maintaining and operating thematic clusters of multi-user equipment.

Duties of the CREATI Network include training faculty and students in the use of core research equipment, such as high-field NMR; assisting faculty with major equipment acquisitions; maintaining and operating major research equipment and facilities; promoting the development of new research partnerships, including access to core research equipment and facilities by private sector users on a cost-recovery basis.

Individuals seeking more information about the core research equipment available at Memorial University of Newfoundland or the CREATI Network should contact the Director by e-mail at dmiller@mun.ca, by telephone at (709) 737-2409, by fax at (709) 737-6193, or in-person at the Inno Innovation Centre, room IIC1001B.

Chief Technician

Research Associate
Mello, L.G.S., B.Sc. Rio Grande, M.Sc. UQAR, Ph.D. Memorial

The Fisheries Conservation Group is an academic unit initially created at Memorial University of Newfoundland in 1996 as an NSERC Industrial Research Chair to develop an independent fisheries research program to complement Government programs and provide an integrative focus for fisheries research at the University. The Group now conducts research and training in fisheries science and conservation, with students in the M.Sc. and Ph.D. programs in biology and behavioural ecology, the M.M.S. program in marine science and fisheries, and the M.Env.Sc. program in environmental sciences.

The Fisheries Conservation Group works independently with both the Provincial Department of Fisheries and Aquaculture and the Federal Department of Fisheries and Oceans in conducting research on the Newfoundland and Labrador fisheries. The Group also undertakes extensive international collaborations with marine research groups around the world, and has trained scientists now working in more than 10 countries.

A focus of the Group is the use of high-technology in the study of marine ecosystems and the conservation of fisheries, with a focus on acoustics, telemetry, and GIS applications. Further information may be obtained through the website at fishcons.mi.mun.ca/.

Memorial University of Newfoundland Folklore and Language Archive (MUNFLA) is Canada's foremost repository for recorded and collected items of Newfoundland and Labrador folklore, folklife, language, oral history and popular culture. Established in 1968, it is one of the oldest archives at Memorial University of Newfoundland. The Archive is an integral part of the teaching and research activities of the Department of Folklore at the graduate and undergraduate levels. It is a member of the Association of Newfoundland and Labrador Archives and the Canadian Council of Archives.

The Archive contains diverse materials, donated by more than 11,000 contributors, covering topics such as custom and belief, childlore, material culture and work techniques, song, music, dance, tale, legend, personal experience narrative, poetry, riddles and conundrums, proverbs and foodways. Special holdings include the field notebooks of Maud Karpeles who compiled Folk Songs from Newfoundland (1971); E. R. Seary's collection of research materials on family names; the folklore collections of Herbert Halpert and John Widdowson; the extensive Newfoundland and Labrador song collections of Kenneth S. Goldstein and MacEdward Leach; Lawrence R. Smith's linguistic materials on Labrador Inuktitut and Southern Avalon dialect; 12,000 Canadian Broadcast Corporation recordings; the Lorne Russwurm international collection of country music; and Franco-NL materials from the Centre d'Études Franco-Terreneuviennes. Overall, the collection contains 40,000 audio tape recordings, 4,000 commercial recordings, 20,000 photographs; 2,000 printed documents, 16,000 manuscripts, and 800 video tape recordings.

The Gardiner Centre is the outreach unit of the Faculty of Business Administration. The Gardiner Centre was established in 2008 by the amalgamation of the Centre for Management Development and P.J. Gardiner Institute for Enterprise and Entrepreneurship. Its mission is to advance business knowledge and skills and provide leading solutions for individuals, in both the public and private sectors, seeking success for themselves, their business or their organization.

The Gardiner Centre works with a variety of organizational clients from both the private and public sectors, including professional and industry associations, and not-for-profit agencies and groups. Whether through public events, open enrolment or customized training or student consulting, the Gardiner Centre is positioned to connect clients with the Faculty of Business Administration’s expertise and to help an organization grow.

The Gardiner Centre facilities, located on the fourth floor of the Faculty of Business Administration building at the University, provide an interactive adult learning environment which is custom-designed to provide clients with everything they need to ensure a relaxing, retreat-like atmosphere, conducive to learning.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Gardiner Centre by telephone at (709) 737-7977 or through the website at www.mun.ca/gardinercentre.

11.11 GENESIS Group Inc.

President and CEO
King, D.J.

GENESIS Group Inc. is a separately incorporated entity of Memorial University of Newfoundland and is governed by a board of directors representing industry, academia, and government. It serves the whole university community and facilitates the linkage to the business community. The Genesis Group is located on the third floor of the Inco Innovation Centre. The Genesis Research division, as its primary goal, identifies and commercializes promising technologies arising from research at the University. Areas of expertise include Biotechnology and Medicine, Physical Sciences and Engineering and Information Technology and Communications. Key industrial sectors include the mining and oil and gas industries. In addition to its central role of transferring technology to the private sector, the research group assists the province’s small and medium-size businesses to access the vast physical and human resources of the University. Genesis Research focuses on new technologies, processes, and services and seeks to enhance, improve, and/or diversify an existing industry’s capability. The Genesis Centre division is a support network to help knowledge-based businesses/entrepreneurs create high-growth enterprises. The Centre mobilizes the province’s business community and a network of world class mentors to help the entrepreneurs develop comprehensive business plans, raise equity capital and secure global market access. Genesis Bio-labs, located on Mt. Scio Road, is a wet lab facility to support start-ups in the biotechnology sector. Genesis Innovation Works, located on the second floor of the Inco Innovation Centre, is a prototype development centre and an on-campus collaborative research facility for university/industry partnership initiatives.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the GENESIS Group Inc. by telephone at (709) 737-4527 or through the website at www.genesis.mun.ca/.

The Health Research Unit was established in 1991 as a unit of the Faculty of Medicine within the Division of Community Health. It represents the integrity and independence of University research, teaching and outreach. The purpose of the Health Research Unit is to improve the health of the Newfoundland and Labrador community-at-large through research focussed on the prevention of disease and the protection and promotion of health.

Research Themes
1. Measurement of health status in community/workforce populations;
2. Assessment of the health care system;
3. Development and management of health information systems;
4. Design and analysis of health surveys and audits; and
5. Evaluation of health and social programs

The Health Research Unit may be contacted by telephone at (709) 777-8385 or through the website at www.med.mun.ca/hru/.

International Program Officer (Academic)

Bonnell, E.

International Program Officer (Study Abroad)

Vacant

International Support Officer

Wang Lei

The International Programs Office (IPO) was established in October 2008 and brings together all the international activities of the Faculty of Business Administration other than outreach or research activities under the responsibility of the Associate Dean (Academic Programs) of the Faculty. The activities previously undertaken by the Centre for International Business Studies and by the Fellow in International Business are continued in this new Office under a dedicated support unit headed by a Director of International Programs. The IPO has direct responsibility for the development and enhancement of academic programs and curriculum including but not limited to the International Bachelor of Business Administration (I.B.B.A.), the International Business Minor, the International Business Concentration, professional accreditation (CITP) and future internationally focussed initiatives at the graduate level. The IPO also has responsibility for development and management of a global range of international mobility opportunities in the Faculty, including student exchange, the Harlow Program and other international summer schools and short programs. In addition the IPO plays a major role in recruiting international students to the Faculty and providing support to these students. These activities involve the development and management of strategic partnerships with leading international universities whereby international students may study for part of their degree in their home country.

The activities of the IPO as a whole, which also include continued facilitation of internships for recent international business graduates as well as the maintenance of close working relationships with regional government and business organisations, play a key role in building the regional and national skilled worker capacity essential for global competitiveness.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the International Programs Office by telephone at (709) 737-7659 or through the website at www.business.mun.ca/international/.
11.17 The J.R. Smallwood Foundation for Newfoundland and Labrador Studies

Board of Directors
Tremblay, Dr. R., Dean of Arts - Virtute Officii
Gosine, Dr. R., Vice-President (Research), pro tempore
Byrne, Dr. P., Director
Cullum, Dr. L, Department of Sociology
Dunn, Dr. C., Department of Political Science

Rankin, Dr. L., Department of Archaeology
Riggs, Mr. B., QEII Library
Simms, Dr. A., Department of Geography
Whitaker, Dr. R., Department of Anthropology

Administrative Staff
Harding, M., Administrative Staff Specialist
Browne, S., Secretary

Purpose And Mandate
The Smallwood Foundation was established with funds transferred in trust from the J.R. Smallwood Heritage Foundation. The Foundation administers the income from such funds for the promotion and support of research focussing on Newfoundland and Labrador. The board supports research proposals in the humanities and social sciences from both inside and outside the university community.

Organization
Effective September 1, 2006, the Executive Committee of ISER also serves as the Board of Directors of the J.R. Smallwood Foundation. In accordance with its mandate, the board awards grants to individual scholars and organizations which have clearly defined objectives and which serve to develop the academic understanding and general appreciation of the province's society, history and culture. Full details of grant categories and application procedures are available on the Foundation's web site at www.mun.ca/smallwood/.

Further information may be obtained in writing to The Director, J.R. Smallwood Foundation for Newfoundland and Labrador Studies, Memorial University of Newfoundland, St. John's, NL, A1C 5S7.

11.18 Labrador Institute

Associate Director
MacDonald, M.

Administrative Staff Specialist
Dickers, B.

Labrador Associate
Sparkes, Dr. R.

Program Coordinators
Butler, J.
Pottle-Fewer, K.
Turner, M.

Purpose And Mandate
The Labrador Institute of Memorial University of Newfoundland was established by the University to stimulate, coordinate, and support major University projects and programs designed to promote the well-being of the people of Labrador and to expand the Labrador knowledge base. Its location in Happy Valley-Goose Bay affords it a perspective on regional and aboriginal needs and issues that direct the operations of the Institute. The Institute identifies opportunities in research where the capabilities of the University may enhance our knowledge of Labrador and address concerns of the community, and puts forward educational needs for continuing human resource and cultural development.

The Institute is the main contact point for the University in Labrador and maintains communications with aboriginal and community groups and the Faculties and Schools of the University to ensure that there is a timely response to research and educational opportunities.

The Institute facilitates and coordinates the activity of personnel at the University as they undertake cultural, research, and educational activities. It partners with Faculties and Schools to solicit funds for research and the delivery of educational programs, and with other social, cultural and educational institutions in Labrador. A Labrador based archive provides a reference collection of publications on Labrador and other northern regions for public use.

The Labrador Institute works with the Office of Research which acts as the agent within the University to receive and disburse Northern Scientific Training Program grants received from the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development. The Institute also serves as the University’s representative on the Association of Canadian Universities of Northern Studies and supports the University’s membership in the University of the Arctic.

The Institute is not a regulatory body but it is available to advise on the normal process of grant applications by individuals. The Institute recommends that notice or copies of such applications be filed with the Institute to obviate duplication of effort within the University. It also maintains and administers an invaluable archival collection of Labrador materials. It is the Institute’s intent to collect and disseminate all pertinent copies of research conducted by or through the University.

Organization
The Director of the Labrador Institute reports to the Vice-President (Academic).

The Advisory Board, comprised of Labrador residents, has both geographic and aboriginal representation appointed by the Vice-President (Academic). The Board provides direct input from the community and offers advice on how the University can serve the needs of Labrador.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Institute in writing to the Labrador Institute, P.O. Box 490, Station B, Happy Valley-Goose Bay, Labrador.

Board Members
Burton, Dr. V., Department of History
Fischer, Prof. L., Department of History
Hart, A. [Retired]
Staveley, Dr. M., Department of Geography [Retired]
Wareham, H., Archivist

In 1986 the Maritime History Archive was established as a separate unit within the Faculty of Arts as a result of reorganization of the Maritime History Group. Its functions include the acquisition, organization, and preservation of materials relating to the history of sea-based activities and societies, with a special emphasis on the North Atlantic Basin.

Since the mid-1970's the Public Record Office, London, England has transferred 22,000 ft. of original documentation in the series “Agreements on Account of Crew” for the period of 1863-1938, 1951-1976 to the Maritime History Archive. These documents represent an incomparable source for the study of the movements and manning of British Empire vessels throughout the world. Combined with collections relating to fisheries, commerce, and other sea-based activities, the crew agreements have made the Maritime History Archive an internationally known resource centre for the study of maritime history.

The Archive is housed in the Mathematics Building and is open to the public Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 p.m to 4:00 p.m. A research service (for a fee) to undertake small research projects and answer queries pertaining to its subject area is also available.

The Maritime Studies Research Unit (MSRU) is a research unit within the Faculty of Arts, whose purpose is to foster interdisciplinary research on maritime studies, understood as the interpretation of human behaviour in marine and coastal environments, in the past and to the present day. The Unit furthers this objective with workshops, colloquia, publications, and research projects and by providing advice and support to other units within the University. Membership in the MSRU is open to faculty and staff of Memorial University of Newfoundland with research interests in maritime studies. Other scholars with parallel interests, including graduate students in the University's Faculty of Arts, are eligible for associate membership. Currently, the MSRU has associate members in Canada, England, Nigeria, Scotland and the United States.

Memorial University of Newfoundland Botanical Garden, Mount Scio Road, comprises ten acres of cultivated gardens and 100 acres of natural habitat that includes the 14-acre Oxen Pond. The main objectives are to undertake and provide opportunities for biological, ecological, and horticultural education and research for the University, the general public, school children and other organized groups while stimulating public interest and enjoyment of the Newfoundland and Labrador flora, fauna and environment.

An interpretative program is designed to provide information on native plants, animals, and horticulture to community groups and the general public, including a curriculum based school program. A field centre houses indoor displays, a library, a tea room, and a lecture room. Numerous interpreted nature trails are maintained through a variety of natural habitats. Cultivated areas include the rock garden, peat beds, woodland beds, cottage garden, heritage garden, wildlife garden, shade garden, vegetable garden, and herbaceous border. Research activities include rare plant conservation, site restoration, invasive species, non-timber forest products, medicinal and ornamental plant research and development.

The Memorial University of Newfoundland Botanical Garden is available for university classes and research year-round. It is open to the public daily from May through November. Further information may be obtained through the website at www.mun.ca/botgarden/.

11.23 Newfoundland and Labrador Centre for Applied Health Research (NLCAHR)

Director

Bornstein, Dr. S.

The Newfoundland and Labrador Centre for Applied Health Research (NLCAHR) was established in September 1999 as a joint venture of the Department of Health and Community Services, the Health Care Corporation of St. John’s and Memorial University of Newfoundland. Since its inception, the Centre has provided support for applied health research in the province through its grant and awards programs, its knowledge transfer activities and its capacity development services.

NLCAHR's mission is to contribute to the effectiveness and efficiency of the health and community service system of Newfoundland and Labrador and to the physical, social, psychological health and well-being of the province's population by supporting the development and the use of applied health research in this province.

The Centre’s work revolves around three principal goals:

1. to help build human capacity and organizational resources for undertaking and supporting high-quality applied health research in the province;
2. to increase the amount and impact of high-quality applied health research undertaken on the priority research themes of Newfoundland and Labrador; and
3. to help increase the effective use of research evidence in the province’s health and community services system.

NLCAHR fosters and supports inter-disciplinary collaboration and serves as a bridge between researchers and decision-makers in government, the provincial healthcare system and community organizations. The Centre funds health research through annual peer-reviewed research grant competitions; supports research training by awarding fellowships at the master's, doctoral, and postdoctoral levels; and runs a number of other programs to encourage and support applied health researchers in Newfoundland and Labrador. The Centre’s flagship knowledge exchange program, the Contextualized Health Research Synthesis Program (CHRSP), is a collaborative effort of researchers and health system leaders that seeks to identify urgent issues involving health services and health technologies that are of pressing interest to Newfoundland and Labrador. CHRSP teams work to identify the highest quality research on these issues and to interpret it in light of the unique geographic, economic, demographic and other characteristics of this province.

The research supported by the Centre is broad in scope and includes research in the areas of health services delivery and evaluation, health economics and policy, healthcare utilization and systems, community and population health, health-related social sciences, and applied clinical research focussing on the process of delivering care rather than therapeutics or diagnostics.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Centre in writing to the Newfoundland and Labrador Centre for Applied Health Research, Suite 300, 95 Bonaventure Avenue, St. John’s, NL, A1B 2X5, or telephone at (709) 777-6993, or fax at (709) 777-6734, or e-mail at nlcahr@mun.ca, or through the website at www.nlcahr.mun.ca.

The Newfoundland Quarterly, a journal established in 1901, focuses on the arts, culture, history, industry and people of Newfoundland and Labrador. This journal is published by the Newfoundland Quarterly Foundation Board, a not-for-profit charitable foundation. Owned by Memorial University of Newfoundland, the Newfoundland Quarterly features contributions from the province's top writers and visual artists as well as writings by our most prominent people. Many contributors have a presence on the national and international stage. The Newfoundland Quarterly can be contacted by telephone at (709) 737-2426, or by email at njq@mun.ca, or through the website at www.newfoundlandquarterly.ca.
11.25 Ocean Engineering Research Centre (OERC)

Administration

Qiu, W., B.Eng., M.A.Sc, Dalian University of Technology, Ph.D. Dalhousie, P.Eng., Associate Professor, Ocean and Naval Architectural Engineering; Acting Director

Engineering Technologist

Clarke, T.

Scope And Objectives

The Ocean Engineering Research Centre (OERC) is an integral part of the Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science at Memorial University of Newfoundland and has contributed to the success of the Faculty's research and academic programs. The overall goal of the OERC is to generate research activity that has high potential for impact. The OERC draws upon faculty expertise and its relationships with industry, other research institutes, and branches of government to create networks of people who share common goals. The scope of applied research and consulting activities carried out by members of the OERC is broad, including ocean engineering related to the offshore, marine transportation, and fishing industries. In addition to faculty experience, the OERC operates a 58 metre long towing tank with wave generation capabilities.

Organization

The St. John's marine research community is vibrant and collaborative. Within the University the Centre maintains ties with C-CORE (by joint appointments of faculty and collaborative projects), with the Ocean Science Centre and the Fisheries and Marine Institute. Similar ties are maintained with the Institute for Ocean Technology (IOT) of the National Research Council (NRC), which is located adjacent to the Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science on the University campus. The Centre collaborates with and serves various small and large private sector firms with ocean engineering interests. The Centre works with Oceanic Consulting Corporation to provide marine performance evaluation services to the world's oceans industries. An alliance between the University, NRC and Marineering Limited of St. John's, Oceanic uses the ocean engineering capabilities and facilities of the University and NRC to support clients and projects around the world.
