1 The Memorial University of Newfoundland Code

The attention of all members of the University Community is drawn to the section of the University Calendar titled The Memorial University of Newfoundland Code, which articulates the University's commitment to maintaining the highest standards of academic integrity.

2 School Description

A social work program at Memorial University of Newfoundland commenced in 1963 with the offering of a two-year diploma in public welfare. In 1965 the Bachelor of Arts (Social Welfare) degree was initiated, continuing until 1970 when the Bachelor of Social Work was established. The Bachelor of Social Work program is accredited by the Canadian Association of Schools of Social Work (CASSW). The program is accredited to 2010 having received the highest possible accreditation of seven years. The School also offers an undergraduate diploma and graduate degrees at the master and doctoral level.

Social work courses are designed for delivery on a philosophical base of humanism and social justice. This is accomplished in an empowering teaching and learning environment, through the practice of anti-oppression principles, within the context of critical thinking. The curriculum in social work draws upon the substance and analytical processes of the social and behavioural sciences and of the humanities. It reflects Memorial University of Newfoundland and the School of Social Work's traditional commitments to serve the people of Newfoundland and Labrador within a global context.

Additional information regarding the School of Social Work is available at www.mun.ca/socwrk/home/.

Students must meet all regulations of the School of Social Work in addition to those stated in the general regulations. For information concerning fees and charges, admission/readmission to the University, and general academic regulations (undergraduate), refer to UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS.

2.1 Vision

The School of Social Work strives to strengthen human relationships and promote social justice through academic excellence.

2.2 Mission

The School of Social Work promotes social justice by providing social work education, conducting scholarly inquiry, disseminating knowledge and contributing to public policy and practice thereby addressing the needs and aspirations of the local and global communities with whom we collaborate and interact.

3 Description of Programs

All courses of the School are designated by the abbreviation SCWK.

3.1 Bachelor of Social Work

The Bachelor of Social Work is a full-time program that is offered as a first or a second degree program and is comprised of course work and two internships. The degree qualifies graduates for beginning professional practice in social work settings. The objectives of the liberal education aspect of the undergraduate program includes the achievement of: general knowledge of people and nature, analytical and critical thinking and communication skills and knowledge of social, political and economic impacts in society. The objectives of the undergraduate program are to prepare students to: promote social justice and social well being and creatively challenge oppression; acquire and apply knowledge, skills, values, professional ethics and critical thinking abilities; recognize limitations and strengths as a beginning social work practitioner; integrate reflexively critical self-awareness; assume leadership in collaboration and interdisciplinary practice; utilize and participate in innovative and traditional inquiry and research models; creatively practice with diverse individuals and collectives; promote and critique the social work profession on, regional, provincial, national and global levels; commit to the process of lifelong learning; participate collaboratively and respectfully in innovative teaching and learning processes; and address issues of transition and crisis in diverse contexts (individuals, families, communities, formal organizations and society).

The aim of the program is to develop social workers with generically based skills for working with individuals, families, communities, and groups. Students receive an education which prepares them to work in urban centres and rural settings. A special emphasis is placed on the importance of identifying local needs and developing the means of meeting these needs in the context of available resources.

There is a Program Residency Requirement for both the First and Second Degree programs requiring students to take specific courses on the St. John's campus. Although the majority of courses are taught on-campus, selected courses are occasionally taught by distance delivery, which uses a variety of teaching methods including web-based format, traditional correspondence (reading packages, mailed assignments), and teleconference.

Students formally admitted or readmitted to the Bachelor of Social Work program prior to Fall 2009 and who intend to complete the requirements of the degree as in effect at the time of their acceptance are required to complete their program no later than April 30, 2011. Students admitted or readmitted to the Bachelor of Social Work degree program prior to Fall 2009 must follow the degree regulations in effect in the academic year in which the student was formally admitted or readmitted to the program. Social Work courses applicable to this program will be phased out as the corresponding year of the revised program is introduced. Only the Social Work courses associated with the revised program will be available after April 30, 2011.

3.1.1 Social Work Internships

- In addition to their course work, students are required to complete two supervised internships.
- Although consideration will be given to all factors affecting the location and type of internship, the final decision regarding placement rests with the School.
- Students are responsible for all costs associated with internships including travel and accommodation.
- Placements for most students will include residence in a location away from urban centres.

3.2 Diploma in Social Work

Pending availability of resources, a program leading to the Diploma in Social Work may be designed for groups of students with particular needs. Admission of individual students to a diploma program is competitive and selective. Groups can obtain information about diploma programs by contacting the Director of the School of Social Work.

4 Admission/Readmission Regulations for the Bachelor of Social Work

Students are required to complete and update these requirements in a timely fashion and at their own expense.
