WRITING COURSES IN THE SCIENCES

FACULTY OF SCIENCE
BROWN BAG SESSION

WRITING SKILLS ARE ESSENTIAL IN SCIENCE, yet how to integrate writing instruction within the Faculty of Science is continually debated. In this session, Alison Malcolm and Marica Cassis will share their experiences of integrating writing within their own departments, how writing instruction may differ for science students, and some considerations for implementing writing instruction in the future. All Faculty of Science faculty and instructional staff are welcome.

HOSTS: DR. ALISON MALCOLM (Earth Sciences)
DR. MARICA CASSIS (History)

MONDAY, JANUARY 22
1pm-2pm, ER-4065 (Earth Science Lounge)
