In addition to meeting the general admission requirements of the University, all applicants for the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Theatre) must undergo an audition/interview. In addition to meeting the general admission requirements of the University, all applicants for the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts) will be required to submit a portfolio of previous art work and a completed Visual Arts application available at www.grenfell.mun.ca/fine-arts/visual-arts/Pages/how-to-apply.aspx. The deadline for submission of applications to the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Theatre) is March 31st and the deadline for the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts) is March 1st of the year in which entry is sought.”

Page 205, 2016-2017 Calendar, under the heading 7.3.2 Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts), amend to read as follows:

- The 120 credit hour 40 course program and a non-credit health and safety course, may be completed on a full-time basis as set out under Table 9 Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts) and Table 10 Suggested Example of a Program of Study for the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts)
- The Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts) degree program is a professional program designed to educate and train the students in the history, theory and practice of the Visual Arts. Courses are offered in Computers and Art, Drawing, New Media, Painting, Sculpture, Printmaking, Photography, Multi-media, Digital Imaging and Digital Multi-Media, Textile and Fibre Art, Time-Based Art, and Art History/Visual Culture. The curriculum is devised with the aim of producing well-rounded generalists with a solid grounding in all aspects of the Visual Arts. It illustrates the philosophy that artistic freedom and creative expression require both technical skill and intellectual vision, acquired through a disciplined application of effort and a critical awareness of artistic issues, past and present.

In addition to Studio and Art History/Visual Culture courses, the students will take a number of appropriate academic courses from disciplines other than Visual Arts, chosen in consultation with the Program Chair. It is intended that academic courses be chosen which will enhance the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts) program and provide, as far as possible, a broad exposure to the liberal arts. The first year of the program consists of intensive foundation of co-requisite courses in Drawing, Two-Dimensional Design and Three-Dimensional Design, an in-depth exploration of a wide range of media and an introductory health and safety studio component. This is in preparation for introductory continued study in a given discipline or, alternatively, exploring new disciplines in studio courses in the second year, and in intermediate-studio courses in the third year emphasize the production of self-directed bodies of work in extended practices. In the fourth year, the senior studio seminar course includes professional practices, and the 4950/4951 studio courses are conducted as tutorials, in which, students will work independently on projects the research and creation of independent bodies of work and confer regularly with instructors. Each year of the program will include Art History/Visual Culture courses as well as academic electives.

It is recognized that students in the Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts) program must have occasional opportunities to view important works of art first-hand. Arrangements will therefore be made where possible for students to visit major art centres.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts (Visual Arts) program is rigorous and demanding and it is assumed that students will normally be enrolled for full-time study. A student who withdraw from a course may put his/her program in jeopardy or be unable to complete the degree in the normally allotted time. Where circumstances warrant, any prerequisite(s) or co-requisite(s) for Visual Arts courses may be waived by the Program Chair. Any Visual Arts regulations may be waived by the Committee on Undergraduate Studies upon request of the Program Chair. For further information on waiver or regulations refer to University Regulations – General Academic Regulations (Undergraduate) – Appeal of Decisions.

Studio courses are offered in the following subjects: Computers and Art, Drawing, Two-dimensional design, Three-dimensional design, New Media, Painting, Sculpture, Printmaking, Photography, Multimedia, Digital Imaging and Digital Multimedia, Textile and Fibre Art, and Time-Based Art. Courses in a studio subject consist of four hours of practical work in a studio class each week. Assigned projects Course components will require that considerable additional studio work be done outside scheduled class time. Students will supply their own art materials. Some courses may not be offered every year. Courses with a planned rotation are indicated in the course calendar descriptions.
Please consult with the Fine Arts Division prior to registration to confirm course offerings.

One work of art done during the fourth year may be selected by the Visual Arts Program, in consultation with the student, and retained for the permanent collection of the Campus.

“11.19 Modern Languages, Literatures, and Cultures

www.mun.ca/languages

The Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures (MLLC) is a multidisciplinary department that is rooted in the traditions of four major European and world languages (French, German, Russian, and Spanish), as well as in Canada’s own French language and culture. The Department’s mission is to advance the linguistic and cultural competencies of students in one or more modern languages. Mastering another language not only includes speaking and writing proficiency in the target language, but also increasing one’s appreciation and critical analysis of the literatures and cultures that share that language. The department is home to most of the courses offered in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences that study actively spoken languages, including Irish Gaelic, Italian, and Japanese. These complement ancient language courses that are offered principally by the Department of Classics and by the Department of Religious Studies. The Department of Linguistics offers courses in First Nations and Inuit languages.

The following undergraduate programs are available in the Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures:

1. French Major
2. French Minor
3. Honours Degree in French
4. Joint Honours in French
5. Frecker Program in French Immersion
6. Canadian Third Year in Nice
7. Université de Bretagne Sud (UBS)
8. German Language and Literature Major
9. German Language and Literature Minor
10. German Studies Minor
11. Honours Degree in German
12. Russian Language and Literature Major
13. Russian Language and Literature Minor
14. Spanish Major
15. Spanish Minor

Course descriptions for French (FREN), German (GERM), Russian (RUSS), and Spanish (SPAN) are found in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences section under Course Descriptions, MLLC.
Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures (cont’d)

Descriptions for other language courses offered by the department are found in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences section under Course Descriptions, Languages MLLC, and are designated by LANG.

The Department of French and Spanish Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures offers the following programs:
1 French Major
2 French Minor
3 Honours Degree in French
4 Joint Honours in French
5 Frecker program in French Immersion
6 Canadian Third Year In Nice
7 Université de Bretagne Sud (UBS)
8 Spanish Major
9 Spanish Minor

Native speakers of French, Spanish or Italian and students with near-native fluency will not normally receive credit for courses taken at the first year level in their native language nor will they be allowed to challenge for credit at the first year level. Such students shall consult the Department to be placed at the appropriate level.

French course descriptions are found in the Faculty of Arts Humanities and Social Sciences section under Course Descriptions, French Course Descriptions, Modern Languages, Literature, and Cultures and are designated by FREN.

11.19.1.2 French Major Program

Students completing a French Major Program, depending on the student's program and point of entry into the program, may wish to follow Table 1 Course Pattern for Major in French, On-Campus (Entry Point FREN 1500), Table 2 Course Pattern for Major in French, On-Campus (Entry Point FREN 2100, or Table 3 Course Pattern for Major in French, Study-Away Option below.

Students who choose French as their Major must complete at least 42 credit hours in French, including:
No more than 6 credit hours at the 1000 level;
2100 and 2101;
2300;
At least 6 credit hours chosen from 2601, 2602 and 2900;
3100 and 3101;
Department of Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures (cont’d)

At least 6 credit hours chosen from 3500, 3501, 3502, 3503, 3504, 3506, 3507, 3508;
At least 6 credit hours at the 4000 level; and
An extra 3 credit hours at the 2000 level or above.

Between their first registration at Memorial University of Newfoundland and the time of their graduation, all students majoring in French must have spent at least eight weeks at an approved Francophone institution in a French-speaking area or have acquired equivalent work experience in a Francophone environment. Students are strongly encouraged to fulfill the requirement early in their program in order to get the greatest benefit from the immersion experience. Students should consult the Head of the Department before the end of their second year of study (60 credit hours) for help in selecting the immersion experience most appropriate for their circumstances. Every reasonable effort will be made to accommodate students who, for personal or professional reasons, are unable to fulfill the immersion requirement.

No more than 12 transfer credit hours may be used to fulfill the minimum requirements of the Major in French.

It is strongly recommended that students in the Major program complete Classics 1120.

The guidelines for LS courses are maintained by the Committee on Undergraduate Studies.

A student whose first language is not English and who does not meet the standards for entry into regular first-year English courses may use English 1020 and 1021 to fulfill this requirement. University-level credit hours earned in the study of a language other than English at other institutions may be eligible for transfer to fulfill this requirement.”

8.3 Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies

It was moved by Professor Walsh, seconded by Dr. Phillips, and carried that on page 330, under the heading 11.16 Newfoundland and Labrador Studies, amend the section as follows:

“11.21 Newfoundland and Labrador Studies
www.mun.ca/nlst
Program Supervisor: Dr. P. De Decker, Department of Linguistics
The Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies is an interdisciplinary Arts program that aims to encourage students to better understand the histories, social cultures, languages, geographies, scientific knowledges, philosophies, and contemporary experiences of Newfoundland and Labrador. Upon completion of the program, students should have an improved ability to contextualize Newfoundland and Labrador’s place in Canada and the world, including an ability to situate case studies that have application to broader knowledge development.

11.21.1 Bachelor of Arts Degree Requirements
The Bachelor of Arts requires the successful completion of a minimum of 120 credit hours. A student must meet the requirements for a departmental Major, Minor, or Honours program and also meet the Program Regulations – General and Honours Degrees for the Faculty of Arts. A student is therefore advised to consult with the Admission to the Bachelor of Arts General Degree Programs regulations, the Program Regulations – General and Honours Degrees which also includes the Bachelor of Arts General Degree Components, The Major Program, and The Minor Program regulations. Information regarding honours programs is available at Bachelor of Arts (Honours) Degree Regulations as well as under each department’s regulations.

A student is strongly encouraged to consult with an academic advisor to discuss available programs and requirements in the Faculty of Arts including the Core Requirements, The Major Program, The Minor Program, and the Bachelor of Arts (Honours) Degree Regulations. Information about declaring a Major and Minor in the Faculty of Arts and a list of advisors is available at www.mun.ca/arts/programs/undergraduate/ideclare.php.

11.21.2 Advising
Due to the nature of interdisciplinary programming, students must carefully plan their course selection and regularly consult with the Program Coordinator. Questions about the delivery of a course should be directed to the appropriate academic unit.

11.21.3 Declaring the Interdisciplinary Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies
Students wishing to declare a Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies shall consult with the Program Coordinator to discuss the requirements of the program. Information about declaring a program of study in the Faculty of Arts is available at www.mun.ca/arts/programs/undergraduate/ideclare.php.

11.21.4 Regulations for the Interdisciplinary Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies
A Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies consists of a minimum of 24 credit hours in courses selected from Table 1 Core Faculty of Arts Courses for the Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies and Table 2 Other Faculty of Arts Courses for the Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies below as follows:
as per the General Regulations for Interdisciplinary Major and Minor Programs, courses from a minimum of any three Arts disciplines, and no more than 15 credit hours in any one discipline;
a minimum of 15 credit hours selected from Table 1 Core Faculty of Arts Courses for the Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies; and a minimum of 9 additional credit hours, selected from Table 1 Core Faculty of Arts Courses for the Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies and/or Table 2 Other Faculty of Arts Courses for the Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies, including at least 3 credit hours at the 4000 level and at least one additional course at the 3000 or 4000 level.

As per the General Regulations for Interdisciplinary Major and Minor Programs, students completing a Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies must choose a single discipline Major.

11.21.5 Course List

Interdisciplinary programs provide exposure to courses in various disciplines within the Faculty of Arts. Table 1 courses are Faculty of Arts courses that are fundamental to the program of study. Subject to the program regulations, they may be supplemented with Table 2 courses whose Calendar entry establishes an emphasis on the study of Newfoundland and/or Labrador. Not all courses are necessarily offered each year. Students must be careful not to register for different designations of the same course that is crosslisted with different departments. Normal departmental prerequisites for courses are applicable.

As per the General Regulations for Interdisciplinary Major and Minor Programs, no more than 3 credit hours from a Faculty other than courses delivered by the Faculty of Arts may be deemed eligible towards the Minor. Undergraduate courses not delivered by the Faculty of Arts that have been approved as Table 2 electives include Education 3571; Music 2021, 2022, 2023.

11.21.6 Previous Calendar Regulations

In accordance with UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS - Degree and Departmental Regulations, Year of Degree and Departmental Regulations - Faculty of Arts and Faculty of Science, candidates for a Minor in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies who had completed a 2000-level course or above in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies prior to September 2014 will normally follow the program regulations in effect at that time. Such students may instead elect to follow the Newfoundland and Labrador Studies program regulations outlined in this version of the Calendar. These “grandparented” students are encouraged to consult the Program Coordinator for assistance with course selection.

Page 295, 2016-2017 Calendar, before the heading 8.8 Certificate in Public Policy, insert a new section as follows renumbering remaining sections:

“8.8 Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies

8.8.1 Advising

Throughout their program of study, students for a Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies are encouraged to contact the Program Coordinator for assistance with course planning, declaring their program of study, prerequisite and registration issues, and with questions about the eligibility of any courses not listed here. The coordinator liaises with representatives of participating departments, and normally communicates a tentative schedule of upcoming course offerings to students so that they can plan accordingly.

8.8.2 Declaring the Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies

Students interested in a Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies are first encouraged to consult with the Program Coordinator to discuss the requirements of the program. After consultation with the Coordinator, students wishing to enroll in the certificate can declare a Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies by contacting the Office of the Registrar. Information about declaring a program of study in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences is available at www.mun.ca/hss/programs/undergraduate/ideclare.php.

8.8.3 Regulations for the Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies

For the Certificate in Newfoundland and Labrador Studies students must complete 21 credit hours as follows, with no more than 9 credit hours in a single discipline:

The Final Report of SCUGS Subcommittee on Timelines for Readmission Appeals and Retroactive Drops and Withdrawals was received with proposed calendar changes. The Report of the Sub-Committee has been endorsed by the Senate Committee on Undergraduate Studies.

An academic transcript is a complete and accurate reflection of a student’s academic record. Once the final exam is written the course will be considered to be completed and, normally, no retroactive drop will be possible. A poor grade is not, in and of itself, acceptable grounds for dropping a course retroactively. On rare occasions, a student may request to drop a course retroactively (i.e. beyond the last day to add courses in the semester following the one in which the course was taken). Normally, such requests will be considered only for courses that were not completed as a result of circumstances beyond the student’s control such as illness, bereavement, or other acceptable cause, duly authenticated. If a request for a retroactive drop is approved, a grade of DEX (Drop due to Exceptional Circumstances) will be assigned in these circumstances and entered on the student’s record. Requests shall be submitted to the Office of the Registrar no later than five years following the last day of examinations for the semester in which the course was taken. Requests must include the following information:

- explanation of why course(s) could not be dropped during regular time frame for dropping,

“4. In very exceptional circumstances, a student who has been required to withdraw under Eligibility for Continuance-Academic Criteria for Continuance in the University may be permitted to return to the university without serving their full period of dismissal. However, this is possible only once a student has served at least one-half of the required dismissal period. An appeal for readmission will only be considered in the case of health issues, bereavement and/or other acceptable cause, duly authenticated. Requests shall be submitted to the Office of the Registrar no later than the dates specified in the university diary for filing applications for admission/re-admission.

- student ID number,
- semester to which student is seeking readmission
- grounds for the request,

9. Report of the ad hoc Committee on Senate Reform

Ms. Singleton, Secretary of Senate, gave a review of the composition of Senate. Section 54 of the Memorial University Act stipulates that the number of elected senators shall be not less than twice the number of ex-officio members. These seats are distributed across the fifteen constituencies of Senate based upon the number of electors in each constituency, with each constituency having at least one elected senator. The number of elected senators per constituency ranges from one to ten. Because of this broad range in number of elected senators per constituency, and in light of the fact that it is traditionally difficult to fill all the elected seats in the larger constituencies, Senate included in the Terms of Reference of the ad hoc Committee on Senate Reform, “to examine the current membership composition and allocation of Senate seats”.

The introduction of three schools at the Grenfell Campus makes it especially timely to review the allocation of Senate seats. With the inclusion of three new Deans as ex-officio members of Senate, the number of elected seats increases from 44 to 50. Further, we assume that, when the constitutions of the new schools are approved, Senate will move to redefine its constituencies, replacing the Grenfell Campus with the three new schools. There is also an anomaly in the constituencies in that the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, unlike any other Faculty or School, is divided into two constituencies, Humanities (Classics, English, History, Linguistics, Modern Languages, Literatures and Cultures, Philosophy and Religious Studies) and Social Sciences (Anthropology, Archaeology, Economics, Folklore, Geography, History, Political Science and Sociology). Should the two constituencies be combined, it would not impact the number of elected seats in the Faculty as a whole.

The Senate Committee on Elections and Committees, responsible for the election of senators, offered the ad hoc Committee four potential models for the distribution of elected Senate seats:

1. Use the current allocation model
   a. The number of seats is divided into the total number of full-time electors in all constituencies. The figure obtained is then divided into the number of electors in each constituency to determine the number of representatives to which each constituency is entitled.

   b. Each constituency, whose numbers do not warrant election of a single senator (using the formula above), shall, nevertheless, be entitled to elect one representative. The number of seats to which the remaining constituencies are entitled shall then be recalculated, omitting from the recalculation the number of electors of the constituencies entitled to a representative under this clause and the number of seats so taken.

2. Scenario One: Assign each constituency a minimum of two seats. Since the number of elected seats is twice the number of ex officio seats, and since each Dean is an ex officio member of Senate, this assigns the elected seats associated with the Dean to his/her constituency. The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences is an exception.

3. Scenario Two: Assign each constituency a minimum of one seat, but cap the number of seats assigned to any constituency at six seats.

4. Scenario Three: Assign each constituency a minimum of two seats, but cap the number of seats assigned to any constituency at six.

The distribution of seats for each of the three models, assuming 50 elected senators and the three new Schools as constituencies, is included in the following Table.

\(^1\)The current allocation of seats to the Grenfell Campus

The Senate Committee on Elections and Committees supports the adoption of Scenario Three, since

(i) It allocates the elected seats associated with each Dean to that Dean’s constituency. The remaining elected seats, existing due to the other ex-officio members (President, Vice-Presidents, Deputy Minister of Advanced Education and Skills, University Registrar) are distributed according to constituency size.

(ii) Caps reduce the possibility of any constituency having a number of seats disproportionate to other faculties.

Before making a final recommendation on the current membership composition and allocation of Senate seats, the ad hoc Committee is seeking input from Senate on

(i) The formula to be used in calculating the allocation of elected seats to constituencies
(ii) The constituencies of Senate and, in particular, whether the Departments of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences should be a single constituency.
Report of the ad hoc Committee on Senate Reform (cont’d)

Ms. Singleton then opened up the floor for questions/comments from Senators which included:

- don’t like limiting the number in each constituency and agrees with formula based on numbers, put a cap depending on size; ex-officio ratio = size of faculty/school
- should Marine Institute School Heads be ex-officio members of Senate
- input should be sought from Faculty Councils
- will it be harder to fill seats in small constituencies?
  - don’t have a problem but the question could be asked when sent out to Faculty Councils for discussion
- Co-operative Education coordinators have been overlooked
- Science and Medicine have more members than others because they have more faculty
- placing caps would further erode larger faculties representation
- need to hear comments from faculties/schools
- those constituencies with large number of seats are not fully represented as some seats are vacant

Ms. Singleton will take these comments/questions back to the Senate Committee on Elections and Committees for discussion.

10. Presentation on the Proposed Law School

Dr. Golfman invited Dr. Lynne Phillips, Chair, Law Proposal Committee, and Dean, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, to give a presentation on the Law School Proposal.

Dr. Phillips began her PowerPoint presentation by stating that she is here today to solicit feedback on the Law School proposal that a committee has put together in the last two years.

Dr. Phillips gave the history for the MUN Law School proposal:

- MUN Act (1949): Vision of the university specifically included a law school
  - Law School not recommended
  - Majority – not recommended now, but should be next major priority of the university; revisit in 10 years
  - Minority – recommended, with access to legal education the primary goal
Presentation on the Proposed Law School (cont’d)

Recent progress:

  - Board of Regents approved request for follow-up on 1987 report; requested feasibility review
  - Widespread consultation throughout the province
  - Committee unanimously concluded that a law school at Memorial is feasible
- New Committee formed in 2014 to draft a Law School program proposal

The groundwork for the Law School Proposal:

- Familiarization with curriculum expectations of the Federation of Law Societies of Canada
- Assessing the recent change in views on legal education: Canadian Bar Association’s recommendations in Equal Justice
- Advice from law schools: Dalhousie, Osgoode, UNB
- Attending to Registrar expectations
- Developing collaborations with other Faculties
- Budget development
- Course development
- Concept design

Dr. Phillips stated the following strengths of the program:

- A modest size (18 faculty; 80 students/year)
- A law school engaged with public issues
- Aboriginal knowledge integral
- Focus on problem-solving; use of technology
- Internships in communities – ties for future jobs
- Practical learning opportunities – e.g. court clerks
- Fosters collaboration within Memorial (joint degrees with MBA and MSW)
- Specializations in the legal needs of the province:
  - Sustainable Northern Resource Development
  - Social Justice
- Sample courses: International Laws of the Sea; Aboriginal Legal issues in NL; Fisheries law; Arctic Ocean Law; Immigration and Refugee law; International Law and Trade; Children, Mental Health and Disability; IP and Copyright; Construction Law
Presentation on the Proposed Law School (cont’d)

Why a Law School in NL?

- Legal education raises the capacity of the province: knowledge applied to a wide range of sectors (health, industry, education, police, community organizations)
- Access: NL and PEI only provinces without a law school
- Knowledge: fosters case law / research on our unique legal context
- Accountability: academic oversight required on judicial decisions and legislation
- Expertise for key issues of the province

How does MUN Benefit?

- Cross-disciplinary synergies with other Faculties and campuses
- Deepens our research record and boosts existing initiatives like COASTS and the CFREF
- Supports MUN’s aboriginal initiatives
- A law school “of a different kind” – accredited by the Federation – strengthens Memorial as one of Canada’s most forward-looking and distinguished public universities
- Serves our three frameworks

The Question of Demand

- Canada slow to develop new law schools
  - Only two new (English) law schools in Canada since 1975
  - Thompson Rivers (2011)
  - Lakehead (2013)
  - No problem attracting good students/professors
- Cross-national applications remain strong (23,600+)
- Dramatic increase in students going overseas for a law degree (English, US, Australia)
- This is a good time to attract Canadian students to NL

International Numbers

- Hard to track: perhaps 1,400 Canadian students studying law abroad (English, US, Australia)
  - High tuition ($20,00-$35,00 per year)
  - Need to tackle extra hurdle of the accreditation process
- Applications for accreditation from Canadians trained outside Canada has increased from an estimated 160 (2006) to 700 (2015)
Presentation on the Proposed Law School (cont’d)

Lawyers in NL

- 149 lawyers per 100,000 people, lowest in Canada
- Approximately 700 practicing lawyers in NL, yet rural areas and the North poorly serviced

Why a Law School now?

- A new era in law school thinking: the value of public engagement and collaboration
- Older law schools have a more difficult time moving away from the traditional, insular model
- We have done plenty of reflection on this issue: it is time to make MUN Law a university priority

Feedback on proposal

- Strong support from aboriginal communities / governments: Nunatsiavut Government, Nunatukavut Community Council, Qalipu Mi’kmaq, Miawpukek First Nations
- Endorsed by Budget & Planning Committee
- Labrador Institute and Marine Institute – positive about opportunities for collaboration
- Engineering – positive on structure and the case for a law school, but has fiscal concerns
- Student senators – positive, assuming reasonable tuition
- Concerns from individuals about cost

After Dr. Phillips’ presentation, she opened the floor for questions/comments:

- interest and support from Newfoundland communities for internship opportunities
  - Aboriginal support was strong
  - could do internship outside of Newfoundland as well
- query regarding financial aspects
  - fundraising from legal community
- survey of demand in Province – is there any statistical information
- International Law and Trade – talk to Department of Economics
  - Economics may have existing courses
- why begin with such a large number of students 80/year with 18 faculty
  - small compared to other law schools
Presentation on the Proposed Law School (cont’d)

- why 18 faculty
  - didn’t want less than other provinces
- Libraries have been involved; the Library has a solid legal resource base already, although would need an infusion of money to achieve what other universities have
- Maritime Fisheries Law would be an expectation
- does there need to be existing practices in rural communities to place interns there; how would law students do their practicums
  - don’t have to have a base, legal aid concept
  - a number of communities that are interested
- what about current financial situation; there are concerns about MUN expanding out to other areas when there is already shortage of space
  - no perfect time for discussion of this from a resource view
  - would need to go forward to Government
- very persuasive argument as to why we should have a law school
- timeline to go to Government
  - would be a discussion between senior administration and the President

Dr. Golfman thanked Dr. Phillips for her presentation and questions/comments from Senators.

A copy of the PowerPoint presentation is attached to the original of these minutes.

11. Presentation on the Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Feasibility Study

Dr. Golfman invited Dr. Heather Carnahan, Dean, School of Human Kinetics and Recreation, to give a presentation on the Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Feasibility Study.

Dr. Carnahan began her PowerPoint presentation by stating that NL’s population is one of the most geographically distributed in Canada and in this aging country, NL is the most rapidly aging province. NL’s population has the highest burden of many illnesses and one of the lowest number of PTs and OTs per population especially in rural areas. As a result, there is a shortage of PT and OT services where and when needed; poor access to PT and OT for effective prevention and rehabilitation; and, these factors contribute to worse health outcomes, delayed return to work or home, and longer expensive hospital stays.

Dr. Carnahan stated that an increased number of PTs and OTs will be needed to build a modern, cost-effective and efficient health care system.
Presentation on the Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Feasibility Study (cont’d)

Current challenges:
- The current arrangement of purchased OT/PT training seats at Dalhousie is inadequate to produce the numbers and type of practitioners needed for NL (rural focus).
- There is increased competition to recruit OTs and PTs from across Canada making recruitment to NL from other provinces more difficult.

Opportunities for an NL OT/PT school:
- Improved inter-professional collaboration and education (Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Psychology, Human Kinetics and Recreation, and Social Work)
- Produce the kind of OTs and PTs needed for NL
- Research based on NL’s geography, demography and illness patterns to prevent, reduce and improve recovery from illness in NL
- The cost of the program would be offset by more effective and efficient health care

History
- May 2013: Report submitted to Provost by Dean of Medicine committee highlighting the needs for OTs and PTs in NL, particularly in rural areas
- August 2014: The university established a committee for phase I of consultations to explore the feasibility of these programs at Memorial with a focus on the university community. The committee held consultation from Sept. 2014 to Jan. 2015. The phase I report was submitted to the Provost in Feb. 2015
- May 2015: Phase II of this consultation began with an external focus. The phase II report was submitted to the Provost in March 2016

Committee Mandate
The Committee was tasked by the Provost to conduct consultations, which included:
- Town hall meetings with MUN community
- Opportunities for the broader population in Newfoundland and Labrador to provide input through a public meeting and an online feedback tool
- Engagement with government officials
- Engagement with other key stakeholders including OT/PT employers and OT/PT professional associations
- Interviews with representatives from Canadian OT/PT schools
- Details of OT and PT programs to be developed

Phase I
The committee consulted:
- Academic Councils of related units
Presentation on the Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Feasibility Study (cont’d)

- Through Town hall meetings held for all faculty staff and students at both St. John’s and Grenfell campuses of Memorial University (>50)
- Two teleconferences open to all OTs and PTs across the province (>160)

Conclusions & Recommendations
- Very strong interest in having occupational therapy and physiotherapy graduate programs at Memorial University
- The programs and associated research should be developed based upon the unique characteristics of the population of Newfoundland and Labrador:
  - aboriginal communities
  - mental health needs
  - rapidly ageing population
  - rural and remote areas
  - chronic diseases that are prevalent in the province
  - marine industries
  - utilization of technology to deliver services
  - an entrepreneurship component as part of the curriculum

Phase II
The committee consulted:
- In-person public consultation session in St. John’s (20)
- Province-wide web based consultations (105)
- Leaders of OT and PT schools and/or programs across Canada (11)
- OT/PT governing bodies (5)
- Government leaders (4)

The response to these consultations was overwhelmingly in favour of developing these graduate programs at Memorial.

Recommendations
- To deal with servicing rural areas in the province, a model involving an urban hub with outreach to rural areas is recommended.
- While there are many junior faculty members available to support new programs, seconding senior faculty from other schools across the country is recommended.
- Catchment areas for clinical placements needs to be defined.
- Memorial should partner with other schools and use online technology to access expertise and course materials from other universities.
- Recommended governance model was to locate the occupational and physiotherapy programs with other units such as Human Kinetics and Recreation, with a new name that reflects this new structure.
Presentation on the Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Feasibility Study (cont’d)

- The second and less preferred option was to locate the programs within the Faculty of Medicine.

Occupational Therapy Program
- The proposed occupational therapy master’s program is a two-year, full-time, course-based program of study, inclusive of academic courses (proposed 87 credit units) and 1000 fieldwork hours.
- Fieldwork will take place province-wide, with opportunities for students to do fieldwork nationally and internationally.
- Staffing complement is based on a class size of 25 students per year and will comprise 6.0 FTE academic faculty, 1 fieldwork education coordinator, 6.0 FTE clinical faculty and 2.5 FTE administrative support.
- Based on a review of earlier reports, space requirements for the Occupational Therapy program are estimated at approximately 14,000 square feet.

Physiotherapy Program
- The physiotherapy committee recommends a curriculum designed to meet the unique health needs of the people of Newfoundland and Labrador, particularly in chronic diseases and rural practice.
- The program should have an integrated multi-system curriculum whereby students learn progressively complex concepts over the 26 months of training.
- Proposed student-run Clinics located in St. John’s and designated rural hubs will facilitate a strong clinical placement-training network across the province.
- The faculty requirements include 6.0 FTE Academic faculty (includes Director), 7.5 FTE Clinical faculty and 2.5 Administrative support positions.
- The physiotherapy program requires approximately 14,000 gross sq. ft. space.

Dr. Carnahan ended her presentation noting that the conclusion of this report clearly supported establishing occupational therapy and physiotherapy graduate programs at Memorial University.

The floor was then opened up for questions/comments:

- why a graduate program
  - standard across North America
  - no undergraduate program in existence anywhere
  - must be at the graduate level for accreditation
- needs financial support from Government
Presentation on the Occupational Therapy and Physiotherapy Feasibility Study (cont’d)

- is there assurance from Government for funding
  - no, would be led by Provost and President

Dr. Golfman thanked Dr. Carnahan for her presentation.

A copy of the PowerPoint presentation is attached to the original of these minutes.

12. REMARKS FROM THE CHAIR - QUESTIONS/COMMENTS FROM SENATORS

Dr. Golfman extended a thank you to all who helped welcome the 1800 new students to campus for the Fall Semester. It was a very good week of events and activities organized by both the Offices of the Deputy Provost and Student Life. It was the first time hosting Academic Matriculation at the Arts and Culture Centre which went well.

13. ADJOURNMENT

The meeting adjourned at 5:45 p.m.
