REGULAR AGENDA

42. REPORT OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES

42.1 School of Social Work

Professor Walsh presented the proposed School of Social Work calendar changes. The School is proposing substantive changes to its undergraduate program as a result of the recommendations of the Academic Program Review that was conducted in 2005. Professor Walsh noted that the most significant change was to reduce the length of the program from five years to four years.

Following discussion, the motion to approve the proposed amendments to the School of Social Work program which was moved by Professor Walsh, seconded by Dr. Birnie-Lefcovitch, carried.

Dr. Birnie-Lefcovitch then acknowledged and extended his appreciation to Ms. Ellen Oliver, Associate Director of Undergraduate Studies in the School of Social Work for leading the review process and bringing the proposal forward. Senators responded with a round of applause.

“1 School Description

A social work program at Memorial University of Newfoundland commenced in 1963 with the offering of a two-year diploma in public welfare. In 1965 the Bachelor of Arts (Social Welfare) degree was initiated, continuing until 1970 when the Bachelor of Social Work was established. The Bachelor of Social Work program is accredited by the Canadian Association of Schools of Social Work (CASSW). The program is accredited to 2010 having received the highest possible accreditation of seven years. The School also offers an undergraduate diploma and graduate degrees at the master and doctoral level.
School of Social Work (cont’d)

Social work courses are designed for delivery on a philosophical base of humanism and social justice. This is accomplished in an empowering teaching and learning environment, through the practice of anti-oppression principles, within the context of critical thinking. The curriculum in social work draws upon the substance and analytical processes of the social and behavioral sciences and of the humanities. It reflects Memorial University and the School of Social Work's traditional commitments to serve the people of Newfoundland and Labrador within a global context.

Students must meet all regulations of the School of Social Work in addition to those stated in the general regulations.

For information concerning fees and charges, admission/readmission to the University, and general academic regulations (undergraduate), refer to UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS.

1.1 Vision

The School of Social Work strives to strengthen human relationships and promote social justice through academic excellence.

1.2 Mission

The School of Social Work promotes social justice by providing social work education, conducting scholarly inquiry, disseminating knowledge and contributing to public policy and practice thereby addressing the needs and aspirations of the local and global communities with whom we collaborate and interact.

2 Description of Programs

All courses of the School are designated by the abbreviation SCWK.

2.1 Bachelor of Social Work

The Bachelor of Social Work is a full-time program comprised of course work and two internships. The degree qualifies graduates for beginning professional practice in social work settings. The objectives of the undergraduate program are to prepare students to: promote social justice and social well being and creatively challenge oppression; acquire and apply knowledge, skills, values, professional ethics and critical thinking abilities; recognize limitations and strengths as a beginning social work practitioner; integrate reflexively critical self-awareness; assume leadership in collaboration and interdisciplinary practice; utilize and participate in innovative and traditional inquiry and research models; creatively practice with diverse individuals and collectives; promote and critique the social work profession on, regional, provincial, national and global levels; commit to the process of lifelong learning; participate collaboratively and respectfully in innovative teaching and learning processes; and address issues of transition and crisis in diverse contexts (individuals, families, communities, formal organizations and society).

The aim of the program is to develop social workers with generically based skills for working with individuals, families, communities, and groups. Students receive an education which prepares them to work in urban centres and rural settings. A special emphasis is placed on the importance of identifying local needs and developing the means of meeting these needs in the context of available resources.

There is a residency regulation requiring students to take specific courses on the St. John's campus. Although the majority of courses are taught on-campus, selected courses are occasionally taught by distance delivery, which uses a variety of teaching methods including web-based format, traditional correspondence (reading packages, mailed assignments), and teleconference.
