

SOCIAL WORK 5322: FIELD TRIP TO RENEWS

On November 20th, 2009, Mike Devine's Community Development Class boarded a school bus and travelled to Renew's for a day of fun and learning. While in Renew's, the students met with many town officials and were able to apply community social work practice to 'real life' examples of social work in rural Newfoundland. The students were extremely grateful that they were given the opportunity to experience hands on learning in a community context. As well, it was particularly interesting to visit the community in which Mike Devine was born and raised. With their professor's insight, the students were able to analyze and explain major approaches to community organizing practice.
