

SSHRC Success in the Department of Women's Studies, 2011

The Social Science and Humanities Research Council of Canada provides funding to promote research and research training in the humanities and social sciences. The application process is a highly competitive program that offers support to promising scholars and graduate students.

The Department of Women's Studies is pleased to announce SSHRC support, awarded in 2011, for the research that is being undertaken by faculty, graduate students and alumnae in the Department of Women's Studies, Memorial University

SSHRC Standard Research Grant (Faculty)

Dr. Sonja Boon

"Life Writing, Citizenship and the Body: Corporeal Virtue in the Consultation letters to Samuel-August Tissot"

SSHRC Doctoral Fellowship

Nancy Martin (University of Oxford, UK)

"A Threat to the Nation: The First World War, the Female Writer, and the Sexually Transgressive Woman"

SSHRC Canada Graduate Scholarship – Master's Scholarship

Nikki Leendertse

"Where have all the sex workers gone?: The commercial sex trade in St. John's"