FACULTY OF SCIENCE
Department of Computer Science
Per-Course Appointment

The Department of Computer Science invites applications from individuals interested in teaching Computer Science 1510 in the Winter 2022 semester.

Subject to budgetary restrictions and sufficient enrolments, appointments will be made on a course by course basis and will not entail any obligation to conduct research or to perform any administrative service for Memorial University. Appointments will be made in accordance with the provisions in the MUN-LUMUN Collective Agreement. Course design and evaluation methods for all courses will be in accordance with the Department of Computer Science policies and regulations and the Memorial University Calendar.

Course Title: COMP 1510 An Introduction to Programming for Scientific Computing

Course Schedule: Lectures: Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, 11:00 to 11:50am (Slot 3), and Labs: Thursdays, 2:00 p.m. to 4:50 p.m. (Slot 64)

Campus Location: St. John's

Course Description: COMP 1510 An Introduction to Programming for Scientific Computing introduces students to the basic programming in the context of numerical methods with the goal of providing the foundation necessary to handle larger scientific programming projects. Numerical methods to solve selected problems from Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics will be covered.

For further information regarding the Computer Science undergraduate program, including this course, refer to the Departmental website at https://www.mun.ca/computerscience/undergraduates/

Qualifications: Knowledge of programming in Fortran and C, and numerical methods. Prior teaching experience or familiarity with the course material would be highly beneficial. Applicants should have a Master's degree in Computer Science or closely related discipline, or equivalent combination of education and experience.
