

Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Assisting the Jarislowsky Chair:

The work of the Fellow will be determined at the discretion of Dr. Tony Fang in fulfillment of the mandate of the Stephen Jarislowsky Chair in Economic and Cultural Transformation—to promote research in the areas of global and local cultures, immigration, diasporas, demographic change and strategies for immigration retention and integration.

Responsibility:

1. Assisting the Chair in research related to the recruitment, retention and labour market integration of recent immigrants to Canada and Newfoundland and Labrador.
2. Assisting with the preparation of research proposals for the SSHRC Grants and other grants.
3. Assisting with securing the conference grants to host workshops or conferences to engage local community partners.
4. Analyzing data from our employer surveys and preparing reports based on the research findings.
5. Presenting at least twice at the Memorial Labour/Migration Seminar Series about their postdoctoral research and submitting at least two joint or single authored papers to reputable refereed academic journals over the period of the fellowship.
6. Presenting at two national or international migration conferences during the course of the fellowship.
7. Provide administrative support to the Chair related to his teaching, research, and public engagement responsibilities at Memorial University, such as management of research accounts and procurement of equipment and supplies, liaison with The Harris Centre, HSS, Department of Economics and other contacts in collaboration with the Chair.
8. Supervising undergraduate and graduate student assistants as requested.
9. Other duties as required.

Dr. Fang will provide academic supervision for the Fellow and provide guidance and support to his/her work.

The successful applicant will have completed all requirements for a doctorate or equivalent degree in any of the wide range of disciplines related to the research area prior to taking up the position. Previous experience in international migration, cultural change, or other policy relevant research is a definite asset. A high proficiency in a statistical package such as STATA (preferred) or SPSS, and SAS is required.

Annual Salary: Negotiable, depending on qualifications.

Time period: The postdoctoral fellowship will be a two-year position.

Start Date: July 1, 2022.

Location: Memorial University, St. John's, Newfoundland and Labrador

Website: <https://www.mun.ca/jchair/>

<https://www.iza.org/person/7675/tony-fang>

Interested applicants should submit a current CV, a one-page statement of research plans, 1-2 writing samples (publications) or a thesis chapter, and contact information of three referees to Dr. Tony Fang (tfang@mun.ca) at the address indicated below.

CLOSING DATE FOR APPLICATIONS IS: May 1, 2022