Work areas shall be adequately barricaded, and if dust or fumes are generated, suitable enclosures shall be installed to contain such emissions.
- b. No material shall be stored in such a way as to obstruct walkways or represent a danger to pedestrian or vehicular traffic.
- c. Adequate protection shall be provided to prevent the possibility of goods falling from scaffolding or elevated areas. Areas where goods are being loaded or off loaded shall be barricaded or otherwise protected to prevent unauthorized entry. Appropriate warning signs must be posted.
- d. The work areas must be kept reasonably clean and free from debris which could constitute a fire hazard. Care must be taken to ensure that the work process does not activate fire alarm detection devices. (Generation of dust and fumes can activate smoke detectors causing a false alarm).
- e. Due consideration shall be given to fire safety in buildings. Flammable goods must be kept away from sources of ignition. No work involving the use of open flame devices must be undertaken around flammable solvents or gases.
- f. Some University buildings contain asbestos and other hazardous materials. Do not alter or disturb any goods believed to contain asbestos goods (unless this is a duly authorized part of the project). Consult with University officials before proceeding with any work.
- g. Safety Data Sheets shall be procured for any hazardous product used on campus. Such sheets shall be made readily available for consultation as required under the Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System (WHMIS).

NOTE: The above requirements are not to be considered all-inclusive and are considered to be complementary to the safety requirements outlined in the agreement between the University and Supplier. Certain conditions and circumstances may require adherence to additional safety requirements.

As a general requirement, contract/service personnel are expected to conduct all work on campus in a professional and safe manner and to give priority to the safety and welfare of members of the campus community.

APPENDIX A – SPECIFICATIONS

Introduction:

This open call is for the supply of various laboratory apparatus, glassware and chemicals for the Faculty of Science. Details of our anticipated requirements can be found on the list included. Additional requirements are indicated below.

Additional requirements:

At times, certain brands and model numbers will be included in addition to the specifications to supplement the information provided and is included for reference purposes only. Catalog numbers provided are those of Fisher Scientific, unless specified otherwise. The University reserves the right to contact bidders for the purposes of bid clarification. In all cases, Memorial University of Newfoundland's assessment of equivalency will be final. The University reserves the right to disqualify bids on items when the information provided is not adequate to evaluate the item.

The quantities indicated are estimates (for the contract period) only and are based on the best information available at the time of Open Call. As such, the quantities specified are made in good faith and are not to be considered as a commitment to buy.

Samples of items, when required, must be provided within five days of request. When circumstances warrant, deviation from this time limit is subject to mutual agreement. In any case, the first day shall be counted as being the day after the original day of request. Samples will be returned upon request via the vendor's choice of carrier at the vendor's expense.

Bidders are required to submit firm pricing that will remain in effect until August 20, 2027. Prices quoted must be specific for the full contract period. Due to fluctuations and uncertainty with regards to world currency exchange rates, bidders are required to submit their bid in Canadian Dollars. Bidders agree to make their pricing available to other departments of the University. All terms and conditions of this Open Call shall apply.

Bidders can supply a quote on their own forms, provided it is specifically referenced on the completed Appendix C Pricing Form. Quotes on individual items in the Open Call may be completed directly on the original list, if one is provided. Vendors who choose to use their own forms must reference the specific Open Call item number for each line item in their bid.

All additional charges must be shown as a separate item. The University recognizes that dangerous/hazardous goods charges are common, and in fact standard for many suppliers of chemical items. The University will accept only one (1) such charge per order, not per shipment. Memorial University will in no way be held accountable for extra charges due to the supplier's inability to carry sufficient inventory on hand to meet its requirements. Bidders are to ensure that all charges are included in their bid submissions. No charges of any kind will be accepted ex post facto.

Suppliers of hazardous products/chemicals must be fully compliant with the Hazardous Products Act and Regulations (WHMIS 2015). It is the supplier's duty to ensure the proper classification of hazardous products based on all available hazard data for the product or mixture. When a product is determined to be hazardous, the supplier must properly label the product/container and must provide a safety data sheet (SDS). Suppliers must have current SDS's available on their website, or be able to provide them immediately upon request.

Goods/services are to be shipped/performed on an "as and when required" basis, upon receipt of order, in accordance with the agreed upon terms and conditions. Where operational and inventory levels permit, Memorial University is willing to work with the supplier to decrease the number of shipments per order to realize a reduction in the supplier's freight costs. If the lead time to supply a backordered item is short, vendors may be permitted to delay the shipment so that the entire order may be shipped complete. In the case of larger orders, two shipments may be permitted. Suppliers must contact Faculty of Science - Procurement Services on a per order basis to avail of this option. In order to prevent a situation whereby Memorial's on-hand inventory is reduced to zero, vendors are required to effect delivery of their products within 30 days after receipt of order.

Bids must be F.O.B. Destination, freight prepaid for all items quoted, or Incoterm 2020 Delivered at Place (DAP). No freight charges of any kind are permitted. Bidders are expected to make allowances for these costs in their unit pricing, and failure to adhere to this term will be grounds for disqualification. Bidders may specify a minimum order amount for F.O.B. Destination/DAP but should bear in mind that an excessive minimum order amount will also be grounds for disqualification. Risk of loss and insurance is the responsibility of the seller.

In the event of an incorrect or defective item being delivered, Memorial University reserves the right to return it via the supplier's choice of carrier, at the supplier's expense, for either replacement or full credit.

Claims for either shortages or damaged merchandise are the responsibility of the supplier. Memorial University will notify the supplier in the event of shortages and/or damages within three working days of receipt. If stock levels permit, the University will accept a credit in lieu of replacements in order to avoid shipping charges borne by the supplier to ship low value items. Alternatively, the University can also accept no-charge replacements to be shipped with an order placed at a later date.

The contracts entered into will be subject to review, re-tender, renegotiation or termination at the discretion of Memorial University in the event of any of the following:

- unauthorized price increase
- prolonged interruption of supply availability
- marked deterioration in the quality of supply, sales, and/or technical representation.

Should any of these situations arise, the contract shall immediately become voidable and Memorial University shall have the right to terminate the contract without notice. All contractual issues arising from contracts entered into as a result of this Open Call must be administered by an authorized person in Faculty of Science - Procurement Services.
