

George Story Distinguished Lecturers 2019-20

Nominations are now being invited for visits in November, 2019

George Story Lecturers are senior academics whose contributions have enriched the humanities and social sciences. For more information, go to

<https://www.mun.ca/hss/news/events/story.php>

Lecturers are hosted by one or more departments. Costs associated with the Lectureship are covered by the George Story Endowment Fund. Lecturers normally spend several days on campus and are provided with multiple formal and informal opportunities to share knowledge with students, faculty, staff, and the public.

Nominations should include

- The nominee's CV
- A letter from the nominee expressing a willingness to be nominated
- A statement justifying the selection of the nominee. It will include a tentative title for the major lecture, a brief statement of its significance, and an indication of its likely appeal to members of the university and wider community (maximum 500 words)
- A schedule for the George Story lecture and other activities
- A summary of the content and purpose of the additional activities planned for the visit (maximum 500 words)
- A detailed budget, following the provided template (not exceeding $5,000).
- Approval by the relevant department head(s)

Adjudication process

- The Planning and Research Standing Committee of Faculty Council will adjudicate nominations.
- The adjudication will consider the following factors:
  - a) Based on the nominee's CV and the nomination letter, the scope and depth of the nominee's standing as an academic whose contributions have enriched the humanities and social sciences.
  - b) The significance of the planned public lecture and the likely appeal of the main lecture and other events to members of the University and the wider community.
  - c) The extent to which the nominee will contribute to the academic mission of the Faculty.

Note: Regular time frames have been established for each lectureship: November of each year for the George Story lectureship, and February of each academic year for the Henrietta Harvey lectureship. When submitting a nomination, please indicate if it should be considered for one or both lectureships. Nominations should be submitted to the Office of the Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences by April 30, 2019. They should be submitted in hard copy or by email (hss@mun.ca).
