

Childcare List

Childcare is a place where children are looked after by professional caregivers. In addition to taking care of the children throughout the day, a childcare center also provides a fun and interactive learning environment. There are two different kinds of childcare facilities here in Newfoundland. One is the center-based childcare and the other is family childcare. At center-based care facilities, children are taken care of in a designated childcare center which is regulated by the Government of Newfoundland and Labrador. In the family childcare children are brought in to a caregiver's home. Home-based childcare can be either regulated or unregulated. Typically, a daycare center can charge between $30-$60+ per day, depending on your child's age and type of care required. Most daycares do not care for children under the age of 2 so check age requirements.

There are a number of center-based care centers in St. John's:

There is a childcare center based on campus at Memorial University (see "Campus Childcare Inc.")

There are also many other center-based care centers in St. John's.
