The People of NunatuKavut

Journeys are nothing new to the people of southern Labrador once known as the Inuit-Metis. From their ancient roots on Alaska's coastal plain, over the centuries they have travelled the breadth of the Arctic to the shores of Labrador. Their most recent journey has been one of self-discovery. In exploring their past they have come to a new understanding of their present, and a new vision for their future as the Inuit of southern Labrador. They are The People of NunatuKavut.

This docu-drama explores the history of the Inuit of southern Labrador. Produced by Mario Blaser, Derek Norman and Rhonda Buckley, Executive Producer Lisa Rankin.

Price: $15.00 (includes shipping)

Southern Labrador Road Show

Eight researchers from the CURA team travel through the southern Labrador communities of Pinsent's Arm, Mary's Harbour, Port Hope Simpson, Charlottetown, Cartwright and St. Lewis to share with the inhabitants their latest findings in Inuit history and heritage. The film includes interviews with Memorial University students from Labrador, local children in grades 3-6, and high school students from Henry Gordon Academy in Cartwright; as well as dramatic re-enactments of the Inuit-Metis lifestyle from many years ago.

Produced and directed by Rhonda Buckley

Price: $10.00 (includes shipping)
