

David Furey

David is from St. John's and is a high school physics teacher.

His research focuses on the power of metaphor in explaining the human experience. Especially the powerful metaphor of navigation as it pertains to understanding the self, science, and art.

(No photo)