Indigenous Collections at MUNFLA

*Finding aid compiled by Dhyani Beaucage Frost, student volunteer, during winter 2023 semester.
Reformatted and edited by Renee Lawrence, May-June 2023.*

PLEASE NOTE: Due to traditional archival practices, such as respect des fonds, it is common for Indigenous-created and -related archival material to be hidden within colonial and settler collections and titled under colonial naming practices. As a result, some archival collections held at the MUNFLA are described using language that may be potentially harmful and derogatory. Please use caution when using this finding aid and/or searching our collections.
