Exploring Access to Diabetes Care and Support in Atlantic Canada: The Intersection of Places, Perspectives, and Policies (3P Diabetes Access)

Who?

Policymakers (individuals involved with government and non-government agencies with policies that impact access to diabetes care and support) who are willing to share their perspectives regarding policies that impact access to diabetes care and support.

What & Why?

We are seeking policymakers in Atlantic Canada (individuals involved with government and non-government agencies with policies that impact access to diabetes care and support) to share their perspectives about policies that impact access to diabetes care and support.

The primary investigator is a researcher at Memorial University Faculty of Nursing. Your expertise is needed to understand policies related to diabetes care and support.

When & Where?

Interviews will take place either virtually (e.g., via Webex) or by telephone. Interviews will last approximately 60 minutes. We will agree on when and how (virtually or by telephone) to talk when you contact us.

How?

If you are interested or would like more information, please contact the primary investigator, Dr. Renee Crossman (crossman@mun.ca or phone (709) 864-4459 or (709) 597-0994) or Olivia Riley (research assistant) at oriley@mun.ca.

If you have questions regarding your rights as a research participant please contact the Health Research Ethics Authority at (709) 864-8871 or info@hrea.ca.
