Memorial University of Newfoundland will make teaching term appointments in the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences for teaching during the spring and fall semesters of 2019 and winter semester of 2020, subject to budgetary approval and to sufficient enrolments. Departments and programs in the Faculty that may make such appointments are: Classics, English, History, Modern Languages (Spanish, Russian and the Frecker program in Saint-Pierre), Philosophy, Political Science, Religious Studies and Sociology. The minimum qualification for teaching term appointments is normally a completed doctoral degree in the discipline. In some cases a master's degree in the discipline together with appropriate teaching experience may be an acceptable qualification. For further details on these appointments, please contact the head of the appropriate department (https://www.mun.ca/hss/programs/undergraduate/degree.php). By March 29th, 2019, please forward a curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching, and the names and addresses of three referees, to Dr. Jennifer Simpson, Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences, Memorial University of Newfoundland, St. John's, Newfoundland, A1C 5S7.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority. Memorial University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from qualified women and men, visible minorities, aboriginal people, and persons with disabilities.
