

DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY:
PER COURSE TEACHING POSITION
Winter 2026

DISTANCE COURSE

PHIL 1005 Philosophy of Human Nature. One distance section for the Winter Term, 2026.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course is an approach to philosophical thinking by way of analysis and critique of theories of human nature, classical and modern, and the world views associated with them. This course is of particular value to students interested in the Humanities and Social Sciences.

QUALIFICATIONS: A M.A. in Philosophy is required with demonstrable extensive study at the graduate level of philosophy. Proven teaching ability at post-secondary level is required. Recent experience with distance delivery is preferred.

All candidates are asked to complete an application form for per course teaching available online at the departmental website (www.mun.ca/phil/) or from the departmental office (AA3069-70). Along with the application form, applicants not on the Philosophy seniority list are asked to provide a copy of their C.V. and the names of two references.

All positions are subject to budgetary approval.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

Memorial University is committed to employment equity and diversity and encourages applications from all qualified candidates, including women; people of any sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression; Indigenous peoples; visible minorities, and racialized people; and people with disabilities.

Applications should be sent, by email, to Jill Robinson, Administrative Secretary, Department of Philosophy, Memorial University at jillr@mun.ca and cc'd to Dr. Arthur Sullivan, Head, Department of Philosophy, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, Memorial University arthurs@mun.ca. The deadline for receipt of applications is December 3, 2025.
