

– Conference Program –

9:00 – Welcome

9:00 - 9:10 Introductory Remarks

9:10-10:10 – Session 1

Chair: Kyla Bruff

Speaker 1: Bryan Heystee, Liberalism, Technology, and the Fact-Value Distinction

Speaker 2: Jordan van den Hoonaard, 'Using Schelling to Understand the Detriment of Capitalism to Freedom'

10:10-10:40 – Coffee Break

Coffee and Refreshments Provided

10:40-12:10 – Session 2

Chair: Keely Whitelaw

Speaker 1: Andrew Ahern, 'After the Fact: Articulating Matters of Concern'

Speaker 2: Kyle Barbour, 'F.H. Bradley's Critique of the Thing-in-Itself'

Speaker 3: Hossein Pirmohammadi, 'Wittgenstein's Picture Theory of Language'

12:10-1:45 – Lunch Break

2:00-3:00 – Session 3

Chair: Kristen Lewis

Speaker 1: Zachary Gruca, 'A River of Truth, Nishida Kitaro, the Natural Phenomenologist'

Speaker 2: Evan Gray, 'On Robert Brandom's Hegelianism: Reason, Recognition, and Representation'

3:00-3:30 – Coffee Break

Coffee and Refreshments Provided

3:30-4:30 – Session 4

Chair: Shannon O'Rourke

Speaker 1: Pedro Della Rosa, 'Indeterminism and Non-Occurance: the Theory of Agent Causation'

Speaker 2: Benedikt Rottenecker, 'Freedom as Autarchy and Autonomy in Plotinus'

5:00 – Dinner

Table reserved at the Yellow Belly Pub, Water Street. All are welcome!

The Philosophy Graduate Seminar Conference, 2018

Tuesday, December 4th, 2018
9:00 am – 4:30 pm
All presentations in A-1046

A conference showcasing the ongoing research of the incoming class of M.A. and Ph.D. students in the Department of Philosophy, focusing on a broad range of philosophical authors and including topics such as:

- Technology,
- Language and Networks,
- Phenomenology,
- Philosophy of Nature,
- Community and Political Philosophy,
- Freedom, Determinism, and Autonomy

All are welcome and encouraged to attend!

No registration or fees required!

Supported by funding from the Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences' Scholarship in the Arts Initiative.

www.mun.ca/phil

