Codgito publishes high quality graduate and undergraduate papers. It is published once a year by the philosophy students of Memorial University of Newfoundland. The purposes of the Journal is to provide a forum for high quality student articles and thus to promote philosophical discussion.

Codgito is interested in papers on any topic in the sphere of the Humanities, though preference will of course be given to submissions with a strong philosophical orientation. Articles should be 4000-6000 words in length, typewritten, and double-spaced. All requests for information, submissions etc., should be directed to:
