

Postdoctoral Research Fellow – Folklore and Language Archive (MUNFLA)

Location: MUN Folklore and Language Archive, Folklore Department, Memorial University, St. John's, NL

Department: Folklore

Duration: 1 year, possible extension

Salary: $50,000 per annum

Anticipated Start Date: August 19, 2024

Memorial University of Newfoundland and Labrador's Folklore and Language Archive (MUNFLA) is offering a postdoctoral fellowship for a Community Engaged Research Specialist. The fellow will work closely with MUNFLA staff and the Folklore Archive Committee, under the direction of Dr. Kelley Totten, to assist in the restructuring and development of collections policies, new program initiatives, grant writing, and archival research.

We are seeking a postdoctoral fellow with expertise and/or interest in the following:

- Archival/Collections-based research
- Archival/Collections-based management
- Indigenization/Decolonization Practices in Archives/Collections
- Community Engaged Research and Public Programming
- Grant Writing

Qualifications:

PhD in Folklore, Library/Archive/Museum Studies, Ethnomusicology, Cultural Anthropology, or related field

Experience working in ethnographic archives/museum collections and/or grant writing strongly preferred.

Application Process:

Please send a letter of interest, CV, and contact information for 3 references to Susan Flynn at susanf@mun.ca by Monday, April 22, 2024.

For questions or more details, please contact Dr. Kelley Totten at ktotten@mun.ca