Applications are invited from qualified individuals who are interested in being considered for a position as a per course instructor teaching Psychology 2800 Drugs and Behaviour in Intersession 2016 on the St. John's campus. The course is scheduled for Slot 3 MWF 1000-1050 and Slot 4 MWF 1100-1150, although this may change. The Calendar description is:

2800 Drugs and Behaviour is an examination of the neurophysiology of drug action, the measurable effect of drugs on experimentally controlled behaviour, and a survey of information available on common self-administered drugs and their immediate and long-term effects.

PR: PSYC 1000 and 1001

UL: cannot be used towards the Psychology major

Required qualifications: A demonstrated knowledge of psychology, neuroscience, neurophysiology, and psychopharmacology; knowledge of the specific topics noted in the course description above; a Ph.D. in psychology or neuroscience; and demonstrated teaching effectiveness are required. Preference will be given first to applicants who have previously taught Psychology 2800 on the St. John's campus, and secondarily to applicants who have previous experience teaching similar courses elsewhere.

Applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching, and the names and contact information of three references in electronic form to: psychsecretary@mun.ca

If electronic submission is not possible, applicants may send the information to:

Head, Department of Psychology
Memorial University of Newfoundland
St. John's, NL
A1B 3X9

The deadline for receipt of complete applications is 4:00 PM 26 February, 2016.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. Memorial University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from qualified women and men, visible minorities, aboriginal people and persons with disabilities
