Applications are invited from qualified individuals who are interested in being considered for a position as a per course instructor teaching Psychology 1001 Introduction to Psychology in Winter semester 2018 on the St. John's campus. The course is scheduled for Slot 07 MWF 14.00-14.50, although this may change. This course will use the same text book that was used for PSYC 1000, the first part of the two-semester sequence. The Calendar description is:

1001 Introduction to Psychology is the second half of a two-semester introduction to Psychology as a biological and social science. Topics may include emotion, motivation, stress and health, personality and individuality, psychological disorders and treatment, and social psychology.

Required qualifications: (1) A demonstrated knowledge of psychology and of the specific topics noted in the course description; (2) an M.Sc. in psychology; (3) evidence of effective teaching, and (4) demonstrated experience conducting research in psychology and publishing in peer-reviewed psychology journals are required. Preference will be given first to applicants who have previously taught Psychology 1001 on the St. John's campus, and secondarily to applicants who have previous experience teaching the equivalent of Psychology 1001 elsewhere.

Applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching, and the names of three references in electronic form to: Psychsecretary@mun.ca

If electronic submission is not possible, applicants may send the information to:

Head, Department of Psychology
Memorial University of Newfoundland
St. John's, NL
A1B 3X9

The deadline for receipt of complete applications is 4:00 PM, 19 October, 2017.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. Memorial University is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from qualified women and men, visible minorities, aboriginal people and persons with disabilities.
