Applications are invited from qualified individuals who are interested in being considered for a position as a per course instructor teaching Psychology 6630 Principles of Intervention with Adults in Winter semester 2019 on the St. John's campus. The course meeting time is still to be scheduled.

The course reviews major theoretical approaches (e.g., psychodynamic, interpersonal, systemic, experiential, cognitive-behavioural) from the perspective of conceptualizing client problems and the process of therapeutic change from an evidence-based approach to case formulation and treatment planning. Techniques appropriate for use with individuals, couples, families, and groups are included. Ethical issues relating to intervention are discussed.

Required qualifications: (1) A doctorate from a CPA- or APA-accredited clinical psychology program OR a Psy.D. from Memorial's clinical psychology program, (2) successful completion of a CPA- or APA-accredited pre-doctoral internship in clinical psychology, (3) either registered or eligible for Registration with the Newfoundland and Labrador Psychology Board, (4) demonstrated knowledge of the specific topics noted in the course description above, including proficiency in the administration and scoring of the WISC-V and WIAT-III, and (5) documented extensive clinical experience working with children and families.

Applicants should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching, and the names of three references in electronic form to: Psychsecretary@mun.ca

If electronic submission is not possible, applicants may send the information to:

Head, Department of Psychology
Memorial University of Newfoundland
St. John's, NL
