Week of August 4 - Diversity and Immigration – Guest editor Mimi Sheriff

A Selection of Existing Articles to Improve:

Beth El Synagogue \(Newfoundland\): This article is a stub and can be expanded. An image could also be added.

Bushra Junaid: Can add a subsection about her latest exhibition, “What Carries Us: Newfoundland and Labrador in the Black Atlantic,” and also her 2016 exhibition: “NEW-FOUND-LANDS: Exploring historical and contemporary connections between Newfoundland and the Caribbean diaspora.”

Chinese Head Tax in Canada Can add a section about Newfoundland – the head tax was abolished after Confederation in 1949

Demographics of NL

- Article is flagged because it contains too many charts and diagrams for its length. From Wikipedia: “Please help to improve this article by converting charts or diagrams into prose text or adjusting the sandwiching of text between two images and indiscriminate galleries.”
- Can add more up-to-date stats on Ethnicity (latest was 2001), languages (latest was 2006), migration (latest was 2006)
- Religion section can be edited to add references and information about the various places of worship including the Jewish Havura, The Egyptian Orthodox Church, Sikh Society etc.

Franco-Newfoundlander: Can be updated with more recent information

Latvians and Baltic Germans in Corner Brook, Newfoundland: It has been suggested that this article be merged into Latvian Canadians and German Canadian

Lebanese Canadians: Can add a section about Newfoundland and Labrador

Masjid-an-Noor, Newfoundland: This article is a stub and can be expanded.

Newfoundland and Labrador: Sports section in article can be updated with more recent information and references about the popularity and success of cricket in NL

Tooton's: Needs secondary and/or tertiary sources
