Academic Council February 20, 2023 (via email)

Members of Academic Council were asked to review the following items of business, via email, for approval.

Minutes – November 21, 2022, January 16, 2023, and February 13, 2023.

Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences – SOCI 6180 Calendar Revisions.

It was moved by J. Shea, and seconded by M. Burchell, that the minutes and the proposed calendar changes be approved. The motion (24 yeas and 1 abstention)

CARRIED

Dean's Report:

The chair provided summary under the Dean's report:

- Senate items and related motions that members endorsed as academic remedies for graduate students to help mitigate the impacts from the strike passed.
- SGS is offering extended dates for the full or partial refunds of continuance fees for graduate students (each winter date is bumped ahead by one month for Winter 2023), and also providing graduate students who are on baseline funding that would normally end in April 2023, if still eligible for baseline, a four week extension of baseline funding. This is not an automatic extension and should be routed through the student's unit and then to SGS for approval.

Calendar Entry:

CALENDAR CHANGES

6180 Advanced Theories of Social Control

This course examines theories of social control, emphasizing their importance in structuring sociological and criminological thought. Content reflects upon societies' continuously changing values and norms that result from dynamic social, cultural, economic, and political processes and contexts to inform our understanding of social control. In this course, students also explore how, when, and why some forms of control are particularly pronounced within and exerted upon certain groups, contributing to complex conflicts and harms in communities.
