Teaching innovations

I have taught many different types of courses including correspondence (strictly online), hybrid courses (online and in class components), seminar, directed reading courses and pure lecture format. I have instructed students at different levels of study from introductory courses to graduate courses and such courses include capstone courses, integrated project and thesis courses. Further I have taught classes ranging in size from 4 to 250 students and participated in different teaching innovative programs offered at diverse institutions (see examples provided below). To this end, I have worked to develop many different times of courses always seeking to generate student engagement and participation. For more information, please request my teaching dossier.
